TAFT QUARTERED IN WHITE HOUSE

He Began Residence in Mansion Last Night.

In Driving Rain President-Elect and Mrs. Taft Reached White House to the Strains of "Home, Sweet Home," Played by Band.

Washington, March 3.—It was two minutes past 8 o'clock tonight when William Howard Taft and Mrs. Taft stepped from their automobile in a driving rain and entered the white house for the night, to make it their home for the next four years.

There was no demonstration marking the arrival of the new tenant of the executive mansion. He was admitted by the attendants, and, with Mrs. Taft, at once went to the private portion of the house, where President and Mrs. Roosevelt received their guests simply.

Quartered in White House.

That the president-elect and Mrs. Taft are quartered at the white house tonight is due to the thoughtfulness of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, who, realizing the convenience of such an arrangement, extended their hospitality.

Besides the president-elect and Mrs. Taft, the white house dinner guests included Senator-Elect Elihu Root and Mrs. Root, Former Senator Knox, who is to be Mr. Taft's secretary of State, and Mrs. Knox; Representative Nicholas Longworth and Mrs. Longworth, daughter of the president; Admiral and Mrs. Cowles, and Miss Mabel Boardman. The dinner, which was late in its commencement, was prolonged unusually, but, in anticipation of tomorrow, Mr. Taft found the arrangements of his hosts permitted of a reasonably early retirement.

Like President Roosevelt, Mr. Taft had a day filled with personal incidents. The Boardman residence, where he has made his home since his arrival in the city last Saturday, was early filled with callers, and the demands of friends, statesmen and politicians on the time of the incoming president were greater than he has experienced since his election.

"Home, Sweet Home."

It was just getting dark and the rain was coming down in torrents when Mr. Taft heard the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" by a brass band. He ran down the stairs and out of doors from the Boardman residence without his hat. As he had anticipated, there was the Citizens' Taft Club of Cincinnati, a hundred strong.

"Give me the friends of foul weather rather than those of fair," was his cheery greeting to his fellow townsmen, who cheered him lustily. A handshake and a cheery word of recognition to each man was given, as a line was formed which passed with rapidity under the portico where Mr. Taft had taken his position. This was the first greeting to the Cincinnati friends of Judge Taft. They are to partake of luncheon with President Taft at the white house tomorrow afternoon.

The Yale class of 1878, of which Mr. Taft is a proud member, had their inning with the president-elect this afternoon. He drove down town, met them in the rain and proceeded to the steps of the navy department building, where all posed for a group picture.

As to Appointment.

The news of the day, so far as appointments are concerned, was summed up in the statement by Mr. Taft that Beekman Winthrop, who recently declined the position of assistant secretary of state, had accepted the second place in the navy department, where he will be assistant secretary after March 4.

Former Governor Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio, who declined to be considered for a position of secretary of the navy, today refused the offer of Mr. Taft to make him an ambassador. The particular post to which it was desired that Mr. Herrick should go was that at Rome, vacated by the resignation of Mr. Griscom.

Willis Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, sent Mr. Taft a telegram tonight telling him the weather tomorrow in Washington would be clear and cold.

NEGRO SHOT DOWN BY BICYCLE "COP"

Brother Threatens to Raise a Negro Mob.

Officers Called to Scene and Watch for Hours, but Mob Fails to Appear — Black Tries to Brain Arresting Policeman.

Attempting to brain Bicycle Police Officer Blackstone with a flat iron, George Hammond, a negro living in West End, was last night seriously and perhaps fatally shot in his own house. The officer fired three times, and all three bullets took effect, one in the head, another in the right chest and the third in the abdomen. Immediately after the shooting, a brother of Hammond rushed from the house threatening to raise a mob of negroes and lynch Blackstone. At a late hour last night, nothing further had been heard from him.

The trouble with Hammond grew out of an attempt on the part of Bicycle Officers Blackstone and Dunston to arrest him for disorder committed earlier in the night. At 11 o'clock the officers appeared at the negro's house at 208 Ashby street, and found him inside. They gained entrance with difficulty, and instantly the negro sprang toward Officer Blackstone, brandishing a smoothing iron high over his head. The officer fired three times in rapid succession, and the negro went down, perhaps fatally wounded. He was later sent to the Grady hospital.

A brother of Hammond, whose name is unknown to the police, was in the second story of the house when the shooting took place. A moment later he appeared below. He looked sullenly on for a minute, and then, with an oath, threatened to go off and collect a mob of negroes to lynch Blackstone. He sprang to the door and disappeared.

A call was sent in to headquarters, and both the ambulance and a number of men were sent to the scene. The latter remained in the vicinity, hoping that the brother would return, until the morning watch came on, when others were detailed on the job. At an early hour this morning, however, nothing had been heard from the brother.

KICKS FOR ROOSEVELT STOPPED BY HOUSE

Clayton Says It Is Bad Taste to Kick a Man As He Goes Out of Office.

Washington, March 3.—In the house tonight, Mr. Waldo, of New York, who presented at the last session a resolution of impeachment against Lebbeus R. Wilfley, judge of the United States court at Shanghai, spoke in defense of his action. He repeated his assertion, made in the house at the time, in which he declared Judge Wilfley to have been unfit to hold his office, and was about to launch into some strictures on the president when he was halted by an objection by Messrs. Mann, of Illinois, and Clayton, of Alabama.

"He has kicked the judge out of office, and now is going to kick a president out of office tomorrow," Mr. Clayton remarked.

"He has only got a few more hours here," interjected Mr. Kimball, of Kentucky. "What do you want to jump on him for? I object."

There being a general disinclination to hear Mr. Waldo further, he was not allowed to proceed, but got leave to print.

VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY GIVEN HALF A MILLION

Carnegie Keeps Promise and Completes Endowment Fund of $1,000,000.

Richmond, Va., March 3.—Treasurer Eppa Hunton, of the University of Virginia, commissioner in charge of one of the million-dollar endowment funds today received a check from Andrew Carnegie for $500,000. This amount was promised by Mr. Carnegie, contingent on the university raising a similar amount, which has been accomplished.

TAFT WON'T "CARE A DURN" FOR UNJUST CRITICISM

Washington, March 3.—"I feel in all my bones and nerves the disposition to 'make good.'" declared President-elect Taft tonight in adressing about 700 Yale alumni at their smoker. "I hope, with nerve, to be able to stand just criticism and to improve by it, and not to 'care a durn' for unjust criticism.

"Many circumstances have worked together to place me where I am," he said. "There is much luck in the coming of opportunities to men. I am glad, however, to enter upon one of the most perilous journeys any man in our country can enter upon. The disposition to meet each difficulty as it arises will accomplish what ought to be done. A man ought not to put himself in the attitude of fearing these difficulties, but have the courage to meet them as they come. That is my hope. If it proves otherwise, then I will not have made good."

This was greeted with shouts of "You'll 'make good.'"

Mr. Taft, the broad smile passing from his face, declared that there was nothing of mock humility in what he said, and added that he was speaking of conditions as they face us, and that "by maintaining a high standard of character any man who had hard problems to face would receive the help which he needed."

THOUGHT OFFICER'S LEG WAS BARREL OF WHISKY

How would you like to have your leg mistaken for a barrel of booze?

This actually happened to Bicycle Policeman Lloyd, of the evening watch, last evening about 6 o'clock.

Complaint had come to Officer Lloyd and his partner, Bob Williams, from a gentleman named McNinch, who resides out on McDaniel street, that someone had habitually visited his cellar, where he had stored vast quantities of good whiskey, and wrought havoc with the supply.

McNinch used to keep a saloon on Peters street, and when prohibition came about he had a large stock of booze on hand, which he stored in his cellar, rather than sell it at a sacrifice. There were some dozen barrels and five barrels of bottled goods. The booze was ageing nicely when it began to disappear.

The policemen were admitted to the cellar by Mr. McNinch, in order to watch for the bold guzzler. Williams stationed himself in a dark corner, and Lloyd drew himself up on one of the tempting barrels. His legs dangled alongside the staves.

The officers had not been waiting long when in came an intruder. About all the officers could see was his dark figure and a formidable-looking brace and bit, which he carried well to the front. He proceeded straightway to the barrel on which Lloyd was sitting, and began to make a noise like a bunghole. The trouble was that the officer's left leg was in the way, and the gimlet failed to produce any of the precious fluid. Before the man had bored far, the big policeman had him safe by the collar.

When he got to the station house, he proved to be Mr. McNinch's butler, trusted above all. His name was Sam Griffin, nineteen years of age. He is held in default of $100 bond, and will be tried this afternoon in the police court.

$75,000 A YEAR FOR PRESIDENT

And He Must Pay Own Way When Traveling.

All Other Salary Increases Were Stricken by the House and the Senate Conferees Were Forced to Acquiesce.

Washington, March 3.—The salary of the president of the United States has been definitely fixed at $75,000 per annum without any additional allowances for traveling expenses. This conclusion was arrived at during the day and night by two conference committees of the two houses of congress, one on the legislative, executive and judicial bill and the other on the sundry civil appropriation bill. Originally the senate inserted an amendment in the legislative bill giving the president a salary of $100,000 a year. The house reduced the amount to $75,000, and the conference on that measure resulted in the retention of the house figures.

Anticipating the possibility of this conclusion with reference to the salary, the senate inserted in the sundry civil bill a provision appropriating $25,000 for the payment of the president's traveling expenses. Late tonight the senate also receded from amendment, thus leaving a flat salary of $75,000 for the president, out of which he must pay his own way when traveling. The senate lost all of its other amendments for increase of salaries for high officials, such as the vice-president, the speaker of the house, the supreme court judges and other federal judges.

WAR CLAIMS STRICKEN.

Agreement Reached on the General Deficiency Bill.

Washington, March 3.—A complete agreement was reached by the conferees on the general deficiency bill tonight. The amendments making an appropriation of $500,000 to pay the first two installments to Colombia under the provisions of the treaty recently ratified, and an appropriation of $20,000 to pay the expenses of a commission to investigate the interests of the United States in Liberia, were retained.

The century-old war claims for Virginia and Maryland were stricken out of the bill, as were the appropriations of $50,000 for the construction of a memorial upon the Lincoln farm in Kentucky and $66,000 for the reimbursement of contributors to the Ellen M. Stone ransom und.

Both houses adopted the conference report on the bill which now goes to the president.

DEMOCRATS WIN ON PENAL CODE

Reconstruction Laws Are Stricken From Bill.

Objectionable Clauses Related to Troops at Polls and to Selection of Federal Juries. Anti-Jug Amendment Is Carried by the Bill.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(Special.)—The penal code bill passed the senate this afternoon after the elimination of the obnoxious sections which the democrats opposed as being remnants of the reconsruction era. This bill contains the anti-jug rider. It has finally run the gauntlet in both houses and will go to the president for his signature.

From the section which declares that troops of the United States shall not be used in any state except in case of war or to keep peace at the polls, the words "to keep peace at the polls" were stricken. This relic of reconstruction horrors will no more find a place on the statute books.

Right to Serve on Juries.

Another section affecting the right to serve on juries, which provided that no citizen of the United States should be discriminated against in the matter of selection for jury duty because of race, color or previous condition of servitude, was eliminated from the bill. The means that negroes may be kept off the juries in the south.

These were the sections against which the senate democrats were determined to make the most aggrssive fight. Many southern senators were placed in a most embarrassing position on account of this measure. They were bitterly opposed to the obnoxious sections above referred to and yet they were desirous of having enacted into law the prohibition amendment.

Though they would never admit that they were conducting a filibuster, several senate democrats were prepared to fight the bill until the vice-president's gavel sounded the death knell of the sixtieth congress. Finally the republicans agreed to strike the obnoxious features.

The Anti-Jug Law.

The anti-jug law was put on as an amendment to the code bill by the house. The senate had adopted the measure as an independent bill, which had been reported by the judiciary committee by Senator Knox. It was similar to the bill originally introduced in the house by Mr. Brantley, of Georgia. The amendment prohibits any railroad or express company from acting as the agent of buyer or seller in consignments of liquor. The carrier

FOUR WIVES OF CABINET MEMBERS, WHO INTEREST CAPITAL SOCIETY

Washington society interest centers just now in the "reorganization" of the social cabinet and particularly in the personalities of the wives of the members of Mr. Taft's cabinet. Of these Mrs. Philander C. Knox is easily the best known woman at the capital. Thousands of persons have remarked upon the boyish appearance of Senator Knox. Mrs. Knox is far more youthful in appearance than her husband. She is one of the most beautiful matrons in Washington's social circle. Another interesting woman in the new cabinet is Mrs. Ballinger. She is a scholarly woman of high artistic ideals and is also fond of social life. Her home in Seattle is noted for hospitality. Mrs. Wickersham is a New York woman and a close friend of Mrs. Henry W. Taft. Mr. Wickersham has just bought a home in Washington at a cost of $100,000, which will be the scene of many society events in the next four years. Mrs. J. M. Dickinson, wife of the new secretary of war, is a southern woman of charming personality and a great favorite in Chicago, where she and her husband have resided for several years.

TAFT CALLS ROOSEVELT PEER OF LINCOLN AND WASHINGTON

Man Who Goes Into White House Today Makes Public His Estimate of the Man Who Goes Out.

New York, March 3.—In its issue of March 6, Collier's Weekly will publish the following article by President-Elect Taft, under the caption, "My Predecessor":

"Mr. Roosevelt and I came to know each other when he was chairman of the civil service commission and I was solicitor general, in 1890 to 1892, in Washington. We were both subordinates in the Harrison administration. We lived in the same part of Washington—he on Nineteenth street, near the British embassy, and I on Dupont circle. Our wives knew each other well, and some of our children were born at about the same time.

"We found, after discussion, that we agreed in quite a marked way in our views of proper political ideals and proper political methods. We were as emphatic in the judgment that the political reformer who was not willing to accept conditions as they were as the basis for his action, and to work for the better things that were practical, without achieving all that he would like to achieve, was rather a hindrance than a help to progress, and merely assisted the permanent control of the boss and the machine. This, I think, has been the moving principle of Mr. Roosevelt's career. He has believed in practical progress and not in ideals which make for no real advancement.

"After these two years, I went upon the bench, left Washington, and only occasionally met him, though from time to time, as changes came into his career, we carried on correspondence, and, as crises would arise, he would not infrequently write me to secure my judgment on particular situations.

Says Associates Love Roosevelt.

"No one could be associated with Mr. Roosevelt closely without having the strongest possible affection for him. His mind, his disposition and his temperament are all of that class that would rather make him agree than disagree with the people with whom he comes in contact. But this is not to say that he does not enjoy a controversy and a fight according to the rules of the game, for he does. He believes as strongly as possible in team-work, and I never served under any man, or hope to serve under another man, so intensely loyal to the cause which we were both seeking to uphold, and so generous in his acceptances of the full responsibility for his subordinates in the work as Theodore Roosevelt. I never served under another who was as generous in his praise of those who worked with him and who was as willing to accord more than their desserts to the men who were shoulder to shoulder with him in the fight. That characteristic of his has been calculated to tie men to him with bonds of steel.

"The theory that Mr. Roosevelt is of exceedingly impulsive nature is, perhaps, due to the extent of the saying that he had a marvelous quickness for apprehending a question and reaching the nub of it and almost an overwhelming desire to decide and get rid of the issue presented as promptly as possible. I never knew a man who worked as far in advance of what was to be done and who kept his engagements with reference to what he had agreed to do as providently as Mr. Roosevelt. Perhaps I value this virtue more highly because I lack it myself. The result of quick decision and action might have impaired the success of Mr. Roosevelt's career if it had not been that he has been freer than most men from that pride of opinion which prevents many men from admitting their error, reversing their judgment and changing their course.

Willing to Reverse Himself.

"I have had to do with a number of presidents and with a good many chiefs, and I am well within the truth when I say that I never met a man who, upon proper presentation, would reverse himself as willingly and with as little trace of obstinacy or unreasonableness as Mr. Roosevelt.

"The relation between Mr. Roosevelt and myself has been one of close and sweet intimacy. It has never been ruffled in the slightest degree, and I do not think that we have ever misunderstood each other. Mr. Roosevelt's tastes and mine have not been the same. In the matter of athletics, he takes to those games more violently than I am suited to and more violent than I like. He has the strongest literary sense and a power of application in ruling current literature that to me is marvelous. He loves life akin to that of the pioneer; he loves like akin to that of the pioneer; he loves roughing it, and I don't.

"Mr. Roosevelt never had the education and practice of a lawyer. His intense desire to reach practical results for good has made him at times impatient of the restraint of legal methods, while I have been trained as a lawyer and a judge and am as strongly imbued with the necessity for legal methods as eleven years on the bench are likely to make one, and yet, in spite of this difference of method and difference of temperament, it is quite remarkable to me, and we have frequently commented on it to each other, that we have been in agreement in our views as to the results that ought to be obtained in the matter of government and political progress, even to details, much more than other men who have come into association with both of us.

Roosevelt's Courage.

"Mr. Roosevelt's courage in the expression of his convictions I need not dwell on. His real, and what one might almost describe as affectionate, interest in the welfare of the poor man, of the man who has great obstacles to meet, and who has the odds against him in life's struggle, and the sincerity of his desire to help that class of men, no one who ever had to do with him could

NO GOOD WISHES FOR PRESIDENT

Columbus Votes Down Congratulatory Message.

Telegram to Be Sent by City of Columbus to Taft Defeated by a Vote of 9 to 5. Propriety Question Raised.

Columbus, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—The Columbus city council, by a vote of 9 to 5, tonight voted down a telegram of congratulations and best wishes to President-elect Taft, that had been prepared by one of the aldermen.

There was quite a discussion on the subject, and the idea which prevailed was that the council was a representative body, and it was a question as to whether it could properly send such a message, the point being made by one of the aldermen that he doubted whether "Brother Taft had received any considerable number of votes in Columbus."

Those who urged the passage of the resolution said that it would simply be a pleasant greeting to the next president of the United States, and would be without political significance.

The proposed telegram was as follows:

"The mayor and board of aldermen of Columbus, Ga., in meeting assembled, desire to congratulate you on your accession to the highest office in the gift of the people; to express the sincere hope, which we are sure will be realized, that your administration will bring to us continued happiness, peace and prosperity, and that it will prove a magnificent testimonial to your great executive ability and high personal character.'

Negroes Leave Town.

Dequeen, Ark., March 3.—As the result of the dynamiting of two negro homes and the slight injury of a negro girl in the southern part of Dequeen Sunday night, many negroes of this place are preparing to leave, filled with alarm at the outcome of the warnings recently distributed in negro homes and alleged to have been circulated by white men who are said to have warned the negroes to quit work in the hardwood lumber plant operated here by the Dierks Lumber Company and leave the country.

Horse Dashed From Train.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Andrew Taylor and her granddaughter had a narrow escape from severe injury on Pionono avenue this morning as they were crossing the bridge over the Central railway in a buggy. Just as they struck the bridge a Central passenger train ran under the bridge and so frightened the horse that he backed into a deep ditch. The horse was injured and the occupants of the buggy were thrown out, but not injured.

Four Men Killed in Mine.

Butte, Mont., March 3.—Four men were killed in the Diamond mine today through the premature discharge of a blast.

KING IS DEAD, LIVE THE KING, CRIES NATION

Roosevelt Goes Out of the White House Today and Taft Goes In.

THOUSANDS AT CAPITAL FOR THE INAUGURATION

It Is Estimated There Will Be 50,000 Men in the Parade. Governors of 14 States With Their Staffs to March. What the Program for the Day Provides.

Washington, March 3.—As the night wore on the storm showed no signs of abating and the precipitation became more of snow and less of rain. Pennsylvania avenue, down which the inaugural parade will march, was more than an inch deep in slush at 2:30 a. m., and snow still was falling.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—A vast army of people tramped the streets of the national capital in a downpour of rain, in eager expectancy of the nation's greatest of all pageants, the presidential inauguration. hTe spirit of celebration is supreme, and everything is in complete readiness for the great quadrennial event.

Congress practically cleared its desks, both houses working under high pressure; President Roosevelt and President-elect Taft tonight slept under the same roof, after a strenuous day spent in receiving callers; all the members of the cabinet resigned, in accordance with custom, and the labors of the inaugural committee were completed.

Numberless Hosts.

Numberless hosts have gathered here from all parts of the country awaiting the coming of tomorrow's spectacle, when Mr. Taft will be inducted into the highest office in the gift of the people. In spite of threatening clouds, which hung overhead during the day and afternoon, and later turned into a drenching downpour of rain, mixed with snow, the visiting thousands did not allow their ardor to be dampened, or their interest in the spirit of the festive occasion to be lessened by the disagreeable weather. On account of the dark clouds which overcast the city, it was necessary several hours before the usual time to light government and other office buildings. Pennsylvania avenue tonight along its mile and a quarter length from the capitol to the treasury, was picturesque, the rain-bathed asphalt reflecting in its glistening surface long golden shadows from the festooned arches above.

Decorations Finished.

It is believed that Mr. Taft and Mr. Sherman tomorrow will be inducted into office, according to the program. The finishing touches in the decorative scheme of the magnificent court of honor were finished today, and the final rehearsal of the orchestra for the inaugural ball at the Pension office building were held. Pennsylvania avenue will be cleared of all vehicles, street cars and pedestrians at 9 o'clock by an order issued by the superintendent of police today.

The rush of visitors from all parts of the country was unabated today, and the city is in the usual pre-inaugural state of congestion. It is estimated that fully two hundred thousand people are already here, and each incoming train and boat adds its quota to the visiting throng. Trains from all points are being run at intervals of a few minutes, in order to accommodate the crowds, and railroad officials estimate that upwards of sixty thousand persons arrived here today by rail up to midnight. The hotels and boarding houses have been taxed to their utmost to accommodate the visitors.

The Inaugural Parade.

The time-honored inaugural parade, which a greater number will be enabled to witness, is claiming more interest than the inauguration ceremony itself. The latest estimate of the number of men who will march is placed at 50,000, not the least of which will be the governors of fourteen states, each accompanied by his staff. Among the state executives already here are:

Governors Willson, of Kentucky; Carroll, of Iowa; Hughes, of New York; Prouty, of Vermont; Harmon, of Ohio; Hadley, of Missouri; Pennewill, of Delaware; Quinby, of New Hampshire; Noel, of Mississippi; Sanders, of Louisiana; Stuart, of Pennsylvania; Dineen, of Illinois, and Fernald, of Maine.

Having encircled the globe with the battleship fleet, three thousand bluejackets are here to take part in the parade.

Marching clubs are arriving from every direction, and they will form a very conspicuous feature of the parade. Probably the largest of these delegations will be composed of one thousand members of the New York County Republican Club, which will have the distinction of escorting the retiring president to the station before falling in line in the inaugural parade. Mr. Roosevelt will walk to the station in true democratic style, and will occupy a modest drawing room during the trip to New York.

Program for the Day.

The program for the day provides that the president and president-elect and the vice president and vice president-elect, accompanied by the joint committee of congress, will proceed from the white house to the capitol in carriages at 10 a. m. They will be followed in carriages by members of the cabinet, the secretary to the president, and the president's aides.

Arriving at the capitol at 10:20, the president and president-elect will be escorted to the president's private room in the senate, and the vice president and vice president-elect to the vice president's room, also on the senate side, to await the inaugural ceremonies. Promptly at noon, Vice President-Elect Sherman will take the oath of office in the senate chamber, and then address that body, whereupon the senate will organize. The oath of office will be administered to Mr. Taft by Chief Justice Fuller, of the supreme court of the United States, at 12:40 p. m., on the stand at the east front of the capitol. President Taft then will deliver his inaugural address.

Taft Goes In: Roosevelt Out.

Following this ceremony, President Taft, heading the inaugural parade, will leave the capitol at 1:15 p. m. for the white house. Mr. Roosevelt will immediately be escorted to the Union station, where he will board a train for New York. Between 2:30 and 5:30 p. m., President Taft will review the parade from a stand in front of the white house. The great fireworks display will occur on the Washington monument lot from 7:30 to 9 p. m.

The culminating feature, the inaugural ball, will be opened at the Pension building at 9 o'clock p. m.

MANY GEORGIANS WILL BE IN PARADE

More Troops From Georgia Than From Illinois.

Georgia Will Have Larger Representation Than Any Southern State Except Virginia.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 3.—(Special.)—If Senator Bacon heeds the advice of his physician, he will not venture out tomorrow to take part in the inaugural parade. Senator Bacon was selected to ride in the carriage with Vice President Fairbanks, having ridden to the capitol with the vice president four years ago. He has been confined to his bed since Saturday with cold and sore throat. The weather today has been cold, with rain and snow, and the prospects for tomorrow are not encouraging. In his condition it is considered dangerous for the senator to venture out.

Georgia in Parade.

Georgia will have in the inaugural parade the largest representation of her citizens of any southern state except Virginia. There will be more troops from Georgia than from republican Illinois. The Atlanta fife and drum corps will in the military division, and will head the two battalions of Georgia cadets, the two companies of the National Guard and the Governor's Horse Guard.

General A. J. West will be an aide of General Bell, grand marshal. Colonel John D. Walker, of Sparta, will represent the state on the staff of General Howard. Another Georgian who will be an aide in the inaugural parade is Telamon Cruger Smith-Cuyler, who arrived from New York this morning.

What Colonel Woodward Says.

Colonel J. C. Woodward says:

"The Georgia Military academy cadets are in fine condition, and ready to give Atlanta a splendid representation. No other city has their 'equal.'"

SILVER LOVING CUP TO BE GIVEN FORAKER

Negroes Will Show Their Appreciation for the Brownsville Soldiers.

Washington, March 3.—In appreciation of his efforts in behalf of the discharged Brownsville battalion, the negro citizens of Washington will present to Senator Foraker, on Friday next, a massive silver loving cup.

Condemn Essay.

Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—Four chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in session here, today condemned statements made in the essay of Miss Boyeson, of Minnesota, on the "Southern Cause," which was awarded a prize by a committee of southern judges. The prize is a scholarship at Columbia university, and one chapter recommended that the prize should be withdrawn. All of the chapters commended President Roosevelt for directing that the name of Jefferson Davis should be restored to Cabin John bridge, in Washington.

Civic Federation Met.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—At the home of T. D. Tinsley, on College street, the members of the Civic Federation met last night and held an enthusiastic meeting. For another term, Mrs. Emory Winship was made president, and Mrs. Tracy Baxter and Miss Cosgrove were made secretaries. The league will be interested in a number of large improvements within the time allotted.

HOW ROOSEVELT SPENT LAST DAY

Hundreds of Callers at the White House.

Roosevelt Declares He Has Tried to "Be a Decent President for a Decent People"—At Least 2,500 Callers on the President.

Washington, March 3.—Men who have been fifty years at the white house have no recollection of scenes such as were witnessed here today in the closing hours of President Roosevelt's administration. The latter's retirement was unprecedented in many ways, but chiefly in the hundreds of persons who called to exchange farewell words with the retiring chief executive. Although no exact count of the number of visitors was kept, it is estimated that between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. there were at least 2,500.

The president stood the test with the hardihood and joyousness that made his greetings to every man or woman more pleasant than usual.

Signed Many Bills.

During all this time he stopped at intervals to sign bills coming in from congress or to attach his name to photographs brought to him.

The president signed the District of Columbia, the fortifications, the army and naval appropriation bills. The latter bill contained the provision designed to restore the marines to the ships of the navy, from which they were taken by order of President Roosevelt.

The Brownsville bill, which permits the discharged negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry to reenlist in the army upon establishing their innocence, has not yet reached the president, but it was said today that he had decided to sign it.

Every cabinet officer in the city went to the white house during the day with the heads of the bureaus and the principal officials of their departments.

President Roosevelt spent a busy afternoon.

Among those received by appointment were the members of the interstate commerce commission. The president exchanged with each member cordial personal greetings. Chairman Knapp, speaking for the commission, said that the country was indebted to the president's persistent efforts and commanding influence for notable measures of regulation.

Roosevelt Tried to Be Decent.

In response, the president said that "You have done the work, while I have seemed to get the credit for it. I have tried to be a decent president for a decent people."

At 6 o'clock this evening he received his old friends from Oyster Bay, and at the same time he received the friends and neighbors of Vice President-Elect Sherman. After this he shook hands with the Hamilton Club, of Chicago.

The last Roosevelt dinner in the white house was served at 8 o'clock tonight, with fourteen persons present, constituting members of the families of the retiring and incoming presidents. Mr. and Mrs. Taft were the principal guests. None of the Roosevelt children were present, and the Taft children spent the night at the Boardman residence.

Farewell to Clerks.

The most affecting of all the farewells at the white house was when the president called all the clerks, messengers and other attaches of his executive staff into his office late today. He told them how he appreciated the way they had assisted him in the seven years of his administration. Both he and themselves, he declared, had worked in a common cause for the welfare of the nation and both had done their best. He wished them all farewell and good luck. Then, with each of them, he shook hands and there were many to whose eyes tears came. A number of the white house attaches were remembered by the president with personal gifts.

At 5:45 o'clock the president left his offices for the last time. His work there is done and whatever work he may do tomorrow will be executed in the president's room at the capitol.

Receiver Named.

Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—(Special.)—On a showing made by State Insurance Commissioner Julian, Thomas M. McLaughlin has been appointed receiver of the Alabama Mutual Live Stock Insurance Company. After an examination by Deputy Insurance Commissioner A. C. Sexton, it was decided that the company was not able to meet its obligations, so Captain Sexton urged the receivership before Judge William H. Thomas, of the city court, who granted an order stopping business and named the receiver temporarily, pending an investigation.

Political Club.

Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—(Special.)—Headed by S. L. Field, a number of young men have agreed to organize a political club to study the best methods of government and find out how to get the best out of citizenship.

Witnesses Called For.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Solicitor General Walter J. Grace has asked for about 100 witnesses in the cases arising out of the failure of the Exchange Bank, to be tried in the superior court. The hearing on the criminal charges will be had about March 22. A long fight will be taken up, and the court will be engaged several days, and probably weeks, before the charges are finally disposed of.

Goes for New Members.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Emory Winship, chairman of the membership committee of the Macon chamber of commerce, has planned a day to be given to a door-to-door canvass of the city for new members of the Macon chamber of commerce. Already the interest manifested has resulted in the largest commercial body the community has ever had and the membership committee has planned a still more extensive search for new members.

TAFT'S OPINION OF ROOSEVELT

doubt, and his insistence has always been that the difficulty between so-called classes in the country and the failure of educated lawyers and political economists and others to bring about proper relations between the well-to-do and those who are dependent upon wages for their living, arises from an absence of a proper point of view on the part of those who are leading comfortable lives.

"The confidence that the common people, including the wage earners, have had in Theodore Roosevelt as their representative and defender has been most perfectly placed, for there never was a champion more sincere in support of their real interests, and yet there never was a friend franker in his statement to them of the unpleasant truths that occasionally they ought to be told. Mr. Roosevelt understands the plain people about as well as Lincoln did, shares their feelings, and gives accurate expression to them. Hence his marvelous hold upon the great body of the people, which has continued to exist in undiminished strength in spite of the criticism heard of him and his methods in quarters more conspicuous than really significant.

"When the friction of the last few months shall be forgotten; when the mists of momentary irritation shall have disappeared, the greatness of Theodore Roosevelt as president and leader of men in one of the great moral movements of the country's history will become clear to everyone and he will take his place in history with Washington and Lincoln."

MORTUARY

C. C. Willis.

C. C. Willis, aged 40 years, died at a local infirmary yesterday morning shortly after 9 o'clock. The body was taken to the parlors of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield, where it is being held pending the arrival of relatives from Crystal River, Fla., the former home of the deceased. Mr. Willis, who was a retired sea captain, came to Atlanta from Crystal River several months ago for treatment in a local hospital. The body will be sent back to Crystal River.

Rev. Charles Lee.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Rev. Charles H. Lee was heard this evening by the congregation at St. Paul's church. He comes to Macon from Jackson, Tenn., upon an invitation extended to accept the rectorship at the church. He will be here several days looking over the field before making his final answer.

Credit Men Will Organize.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—A meeting of the credit men of Macon will be held in the offices of the chamber of commerce Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a credit men's association. The organization has been talked considerably of late and nearly all the leading business men are interested.

Negro Is Rejected.

Washington, March 3.—In executive session, the senate today rejected the nomination of Joshua E. Wilson, colord, to be postmaster at Florence, S. C.

In The Morning

Try a Charcoal Lozenger and a Glass of Water if Your Breath Is Foul and Your Mouth Tastes Bad.

Immediately upon arising in the morning, should you have a bad breath and a disagreeable taste in your mouth, try a charcoal lozenger. Simply chew the lozenger up as you would so much candy and drink a glass of water, washing it down into the stomach in this manner. The effect is almost magical. The mouth becomes sweet and the breath pure and fragrant in a very short time.

After a few days you will notice that your stomach is digesting food much better. All traces of gases and sour stomach will disappear, and the perfect assimilation promoted by a healthy stomach will build up strength and muscle, and your bad breath and coated tongue will be a thing of the past.

Give Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges a trial, results are assured, and positively no bad effects can arise from the use of charcoal. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of young willow wood charcoal and pure, fresh honey, taken direct from the bee hive. You may eat all you want, give them to every member of the family. They will cleanse and purify the stomach and keep it clean and sweet.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are good for everybody at any time. Try them. For sale everywhere, 25 cents per box. Sample box will be sent free by mail upon request. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

CONGRESS WORKS FAR INTO NIGHT

In Order to Get Through With Business.

Only Imperative Legislation to Be Enacted Today Is the Pension Appropriation Bill. Sherman Addresses the House.

Washington, March 3.—Both houses of congress worked overtime tody, with the result that no imperative legislation except the pension appropriation bill was left for tomorrow. Beginning at 10 o'clock this morning the senate ran until after 11 o'clock tonight, while the house, which commenced business at 11 a. m. was in session until 1:30 o'clock this morning.

During the night Representative Sherman, who will tomorrow take the oath of office as vice president, made a notable address in bidding adieu to his comrades of the house of representatives, where he has served for twenty-one years. He was given a great demonstration by both republicans and democrats.

GREAT FAUNAL HUMBUG, HE STYLES ROOSEVELT

Senator Money Pays Respects to That African Hunting Trip.

Washington, March 3.—Mr. Foraker entered the senate chamber today during the discussion of the penal code bill while Mr. Money was speaking of the conditions surrounding elections in the south, and asked what solution he had for the problem of the colored man in the south.

"A distinguished republican has stated, according to report," said Mr. Foraker, "that the people of the south understand this race question better than the people of New England and that they should be allowed to work it out. Now I would like to know what the proposed solution is."

"The distinguished gentleman referred to, I suppose, is President-elect Taft," said Mr. Money.

Disavowing any desire to bring the name of Mr. Taft into the discussion, Mr. Foraker said he had no doubt that gentleman desired to do what was right and fair to all the people of the country.

Mr. Money proceeded to pay his respects to President Roosevelt and in doing so referred to his proposed hunting trip to Africa, declaring that instead of being a great faunal naturalist, any man who undertook to say that there are tigers to hunt in Africa is a "faunal humbug," because that animal could never be found in Africa unless some one catches him and puts him there.

Mr. Money then took up the reference to Mr. Taft, saying that he did not agree with him that this was a southern question. He regarded it as a national question.

"What I understand that the president-elect meant," said Mr. Money, "was that the people of the southern states are dealing with this problem in their own states and that they were best able to deal with it there. In that I agree with him. No other people can so well deal with it."

TROUSERS MADE FOR TAFT SWIPED BY FAT POLICEMAN

Washington, March 3.—William H. Taft will wear on the occasion of his inauguration a pair of trousers which were presented to him today by the republican state committee of Texas, by Colonel Cecil Lyon, chairman. These trousers will take the place of a pair which the delegation took to Chicago with them at the time of the republican convention, intending to present them to Mr. Taft. They were entrusted to a corpulent policeman who had not been found later by the Texans when they were ready to make their presentation.

The present pair are gray-striped, made of wool raised in the Lone Star State.

INDICTED FOR SWINDLING.

Four Men Held in Little Rock by Jury.

Little Rock, Ark., March 3.—The grand jury today returned one indictment, in which J. C. Mabray, alias J. C. Gordon; F. M. Clark, alias George Leonard; I. J. Warner, alias Dr. James; J. C. Johnson, alias J. C. Lovejoy, and H. M. Stockwell were indicted for grand larceny and false pretenses in the alleged swindling of J. C. Kile, of Cisco, Ill., out of $10,000 here February 13.

Bond was fixed by Judge Lea at $10,000. All of the men but Mabray will be held here. Mabray will be taken to Council Bluffs to answer charges there of using the mail for fraudulent purposes.

Mine-Rescue.

(From The World Mirror for March.)

To make possible rescue work in mine disasters and reduce the fatalities of such recurring horrors, the United States government has established an experimental rescue corps which is demonstrating for the instruction of mine workers themselves, how it is possible to penetrate into mines where explosions have occurred, despite the deadly gases liberated by the explosion, and to bring forth the men who have been entombed within.

The experimental station at which rescuers are being trained is located at Pittsburg, under the charge of the technological bureau of the United States geological survey.

There a large room has been fitted up so as to represent the difficult passages in a mine after an explosion. All sorts of narrow holes are provided through which the rescuers have to wriggle and passages choked with loose coal over which the corps members work their way. Dummies weighing 200 pounds each are strewn about and are brought forth as rapidly as efficiency in the rescue work will permit.

The room in which these experiments are made is air tight and is filled with deadly gases similar to those encountered in an exploded mine.

The men remain in the room for periods of two hours each and work hard without experiencing any bad effects from the poisonous atmosphere about them.—Martin Ahrts in Van Norden.

HENRY HUTT, FAMOUS ARTIST, WHO COLLAPSED FROM OVERWORK

Henry Hutt, the artist whose pictures of fair women have spread his fame from one end of the country to another, is in a New York hospital suffering from collapse and in a critical condition. Mr. Hutt fell on Broadway and was found to be suffering from acute hysteria when taken to the hospital. His malady is believed to have been caused by overwork. It was with difficulty that he told his name, and he was unable to tell his age or where he lived. Mr. Hutt attracted the attention of the American public nearly ten years ago through his pictures of women, and since that time his work has steadily increased in popular favor. His wife, whom he married in 1903, was the model of most of his sketches. He is thirty-four years old.

That Bryan Mule.

Dayton, Ohio, March 3.—Congressman James M. Cox is in receipt of a letter from William J. Bryan asking for the certified presidential vote of Montgomery county in order to establish its right to the Bryan mule, which was to be given to the county in any state making the largest democratic gain. Mr. Bryan states that the figures seem to show that Montgomery county has won.

Big Order of Steel Rails.

New York, March 3. The New York Central railroad announced today that it had arranged to buy 101,000 tons of steel rails for 1909 delivery. This is the most important contract placed with the steel companies since the rate war was begun. It is divided among four companies.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper.

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they will cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and maybe despondent; it makes anyone so.

But thousands of irritable, nervous, tired and broken-down women have restored their health and strength by the use of Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

Swamp-Root brings new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of such troubles.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, may address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and receive sample bottle free by mail. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

MANY APPLICANTS FOR BIG CHORUS

Y. M. C. A. Hall Would Not Hold Applicants. Rehearsal Postponed.

The Young Men's Christian Association hall would not contain the applicants for positions in the chorus of five hundreds voices who assembled last night to meet with Professor H. W. B. Barnes, who will train them for the Music Festival to be held at the Auditorioum-Armory on May 4, 5 and 6, and as a result the rehearsal was postponed until next Monday night, when it will take place in the Cable Concert hall, where there will be ample room to accommodate all.

It was announced that the rehearsals would take place on Monday and Friday nights in the Cable hall. At the postponed rehearsal a list of all the singers will be made out, and from that time on a tally will be kept on each individual's progress.

It may be said without exaggeration that the assemblage, which was turned away on account of lack of room, possessed more enthusiasm and eagerness to make a start than did any other body of people who ever met for a similar purpose. Those in charge were highly gratified with the demonstration.

By actual count there were 444 present, and with the seventy-eight singers whom Professor Barnes announced were unable to attend on account of previous engagements, more than the desired number to complete the chorus has been secured.

Professor Barnes stated that it would be impossible after next week to receive any additions to the chorus, and, that those who intend participating should make it convenient to confer with him before that time. He urged the importance of there being a full attendance at every rehearsal on account of the limited time in which to prepare for the festival.

FOR GREATER MACON.

Mass Meting in Central City a Success.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—At an enthusiastic mass meeting at the City Auditorium tonight, representatives from East Macon, South Macon and West Macon were selected on various committees to make final plans for annexing practically all the outlying suburbs that are thickly settled. A. J. Long presided at the meeting. A number of prominent citizens made addresses, and sentiment was revealed as strongly in favor of coming in.

Second Court of Season.

London, March 3.—The second court of the season was held at Buckingham palace tonight. On account of the illness of Queen Alexandra, the king received alone. Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the American ambassador, presented Mrs. Irving B. Dudley, who was accompanied by Mr. Dudley, ambassador to Brazil; Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt Butterfield and Miss G. Darmany, of New York; Mrs. Clinton Cushington, of Washington, and Mrs. Wade Chance, of London.

Headache For Years

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills on hand all the time, and would not think of taking a journey without them, no matter how short a distance I am going. I have a sister that has had terrible headaches for years, and I coaxed her to try them and they helped her so much, she now keeps them by her all the time. From my own experience I cannot praise them enough."

MRS. LOU M. CHURCHILL, 63 High st., Penacook, N. H.

Many persons have headache after any little excitement or exertion. They cannot attend church, lectures, entertainments, or ride on trains without suffering. Those who suffer in this way should try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They give almost instant relief without leaving any disagreeable after-effects, as they do not derange the stomach or bowels; just a pleasurable sense of relief follows their use. Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

TWENTY-FT. LOT BRINGS $56,000

E. P. McBurney Buys Whitehall St. Property.

Owner of Leyden House Property Refuses $110,000—Will Hold and Improve Property Later—Great Activity in Centrally Located Property.

E. P. McBurney has bought of the Hammond estate, 75 Whitehall street, which has a frontage of 20 feet on that street, for which he paid $56,000.

This makes property in the block between Hunter and Mitchell streets bring $2,800 a front foot.

The building is now occupied by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, which has a lease on it. This is the valuation placed by Hugh Inman on the Gunton property he recently purchased on Whitehall street, between Alabama and Hunter streets, the store now occupied by M. R. Emmons & Co.

There is more than usual activity in downtown real estate, and every few days central prices are being paid for semi-central property.

The McBurney trade was made through the well-known real estate firm of Liebman & Harrison.

Leyden House Not on Market.

J. G. Truitt, of LaGrange, owner of the Leyden house property on Peachtree street, between Ellis and Cain streets, adjoining the governor's mansion, was in Atlanta yesterday, when he withdrew from the market this centrally located property and stated that he had decided not to sell it, but would improve it later on.

After it was withdrawn it is understood Mr. Truitt refused $110,000 for it.

The site fronts 100 feet and 10 inches on Peachtree and is one of the most desirable of the semi-central sites on Peachtree. Mr. Truitt has recently returned from Florida, where it is understood he has interested other capitalists in the property, and as a result it will be improved shortly.

There has long been talk of erecting a handsome hotel on this location and it may be this will be done.

New Cotton Mills Planned.

He is one of the foremost cotton mill factors in Georgia and is interested in practically all of the cotton mills in LaGrange. While in the city he stated that the LaGrange mill owners were preparing to invest $900,000 in two more cotton mills in the immediate future.

Of this sum $400,000 is to be spent in erecting Unity Mill No. 2 from the profits made on Unity Mill No. 1, and the other $500,000 is to be raised there for the erection of a big cotton mill at Manchester, on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road.

VICTIM OF SWINDLERS.

He Tells How He Loaned Money on Races.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 3.—Joseph P. Walker, of Denver, in the federal court here today positively identified George Ryan of this city, as being the man who encouraged him to go to Council Bluffs, Iowa, where later he was victimized of $5,000, he declares, by the gang of alleged foot-race swindlers now under arrest in Little Rock. Ryan had been arrested and held under at $10,000 bond to answer to charge of misuse of the mails in connection with luring victims.

Postal Inspector Swanson, of Council Bluffs, brought seven of the victims here from Little Rock, but Walker is the only one who identified Ryan as being connected with the game. Federal Commissioner Leslie, before whom Ryan was tried, declared that he did not believe the charge of misuse of mails had been established against Ryan, but that he would reserve decision one week and give Federal Attorney Clayton an opportunity to file a brief in the matter. Ryan was given liberty under the former bond.

Walker testified that he put up $5,000 to help swell the $50,000 bet on the game, but that he had loaned the money into the pool rather than wagered himself, because he "had no interest in the matter." Under cross-examination he stated he had been promised a percentage of the entire winnings and that after he had "loaned" his $5,000 to be wagered, he put up a large diamond stud against a diamond ring on the result of the race, which he lost also.

RAYNER THANKS GOD FOR FOURTH OF MARCH

Maryland Senator Glad Roosevelt Is to Go Out of Office.

Washington, March 3.—Consideration of the Bailey resolution directing the return to heads of departments of communications from them made in response to demands of the senate which purport to be sent "by direction of the president," was resumed by the senate today. Mr. Bailey said that he did not expect so much executive insolence from the next administration.

Mr. Rayner supported Mr. Bailey's position and exclaimed:

"The fourth of March is rapidly approaching, thank Providence."

He added:

"After that date we will have a president who will obey the requirements of the law and who will not evade the constitution."

Senator Cummins offered, and Mr. Bailey accepted, a substitute declaring the right of the senate to direct heads of departments to furnish to the senate papers, documents and information."

Want Session Extended.

Little Rock, Ark., March 3.—The house today adopted a resolution providing that the present session which ends next week will be extended two months until May 12. It is believed that the senate will concur in the resolution. Although it has been in session two months, the legislature has taken no definite action on the more important matters pending.

INAUGURATION

Hail To Our Chief

We hope and believe that we are just entering the most prosperous era that has ever blessed the American people. We say hurrah for the G. M. A., Donald Fraser and all the soldier boys from Atlanta in the National Capital today. At this propitious time we also inaugurate the most splendid lines of Spring goods that we have ever had the pleasure of offering the appreciative Atlanta public. Three cheers and a tiger for prosperity.

TAMPERED SWITCH WRECKS MAIL TRAIN

Two Macon Women Are Among the Injured.

Southern No. 35 Was Derailed Near Charlottesville Yesterday Afternoon—Four Passengers Were Hurt.

Washington, March 3.—A tampered switch resulted in the derailment at Tye River, Va., a few miles south of Charlottesville, Va., at 1:22 p. m. today, of train No. 35, on the Southern railway.

The train was being double-headed, and both engines and the mail and baggage cars were turned over.

The following persons were slightly injured:

H. C. Linn, engineer, Washington.

H. S. Fairfax, engineer, Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. M. T. Elam, passenger, Macon, Ga.

Mrs. E. A. Ward, passenger, Macon, Ga.

There was no delay to traffic, as the line was opened promptly thereafter.

AT THE BOYS' CLUB

A free-hand drawing class has been organized and is under the charge of P. David Pinkussohn, who is the artist of the American Soda Fountain Company.

Professor Pinkussohn has offered a prize to the boy that makes the greatest advancement, and he says that the work the boys are doing really surprises him, and that before long he will give an exhibition in one of the store windows of the boys' work.

On every Thursday night, starting tonight, a club night will be held and matters both educational and social will be taken up. Mrs. Oscar Elsas will have charge of club night.

An advisory board, consisting of the presidents of the group clubs and classes, has been formed. These boys will meet with the superintendent every Tuesday night at 6 o'clock, and their special work will be promotion of club spirit.

A grand sacred concert will be given by Ponce de Leon band of forty pieces at the Grand opera house Sunday, March 14, for the benefit of the Boys' Club. Admission will be 25 cents.

Sour Stomach MEANS Indigestion - YOU NEED Kodol

There are so many of these disagreeable symptoms—"heartburn", belching of foul gases, bloating, pain in pit of the stomach, headache, etc.—all meaning indigestion. And indigestion always means dyspepsia—sooner or later—if the indigestion is not rectified. Kodol can't help but relieve indigestion. It stops all the aggravating symptoms, at once, by fully digesting all food, just as fast as you eat it. Kodol thus helps Nature to effect a complete cure.

Our Guarantee. Get a dollar bottle of Kodol. If you are not benefited—the druggist will at once return your money. Don't hesitate; any druggist will sell you Kodol on these terms. The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle. Kodol is prepared in the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

NO FOREST RESERVE FOR THIS SECTION

Bill Passed by House Killed by the Senate.

House Measure Was Radically Different From One Passed by Senate and Latter Body Wouldn't Stand for It.

Washington, March 3.—The Appalachian and White mountain forest reservation bill was practically finally disposed of soon after the senate reconvened at 8:30 o'clock tonight. When the bill was placed before the senate tonight, Senator Teller declared that it would take him two or three hours to point out its defects; Senator Flint said that at least two hours would be required by him, and Senator Dixon added that he would require two or three hours. It was pointed out that the house had substituted an entirely new bill for the senate measure.

It was thus made evident that the measure was doomed, and no further effort was made to proceed with the passage of the measure.

TWO 'POSSUMS SHIPPED PRESIDENT W. H. TAFT

President Taft is to have two live 'possums that will be allowed to roam around the White House grounds. They are the gift of Pink Cherry, the owner of the Pink Cherry market here.

On January 30th, Mr. Cherry wrote Mr. Taft a letter asking him if he (Taft) would accept two 'possums as a gift. The letter was addressed to Mr. Taft while he was in Panama, and it was not until Mr. Taft returned to Washington that he gained time enough to answer Mr. Cherry's letter.

He answered the letter on February 27th, and stated that he would be glad to accept the 'possums and thanked Mr. Cherry for the offer. The 'possums have been shipped and they are two of the largest and finest specimens that can be found anywhere. They were shipped in the usual tasteful style that Mr. Cherry usually ships his 'possums, in a cage with a glass top with a cartoon painted thereon, and the president should be pleased with the animal that led to his popularity in the south.

IN CLEANEST OF COMEDIES JOHN DREW SCORES BIG HIT

The complete refutation of the apparent belief of theaterical managers that plays of the doubtful class are demanded by the public, came last night in the presentation of "Jack Straw," by John Drew, before one of the largest and most brilliant audiences ever seen at the Grand.

"Jack Straw" is to these productions as some beautiful water lily to the stagnant pond in which it makes its home and finds its sustenance.

The idea that suggestive plays are necessary to draw the crowds and to amuse them was immediately dispelled from the minds of the fair observer who witnessed the unbounded enjoyment of the hundreds who came under the spell of the witchery of Maugham's clever play.

Whimsical, with a vein of gentle sarcasm at times, shot through with bright dialogue, enlivened by situations which all could appreciate, and yet lacking a single suggestive detail, and without one word that could offend, "Jack Straw" kept every one in the best of spirits, entertained them thoroughly for three hours and turned them away at the drop of the final curtain, sorry to go, but glad they had come into such a comforting atmosphere.

Maugham Aims to Entertain.

Critics have remarked that there is no depth to Maugham's plays. Maugham himself has observed that the public is tired of being instructed and wants to be entertained. To entertain, therefore, he made his object, and that he succeeded was amply proved by the reception given every line, by the careful attention of a delighted audience and the enthusiasm greeting every curtain.

"Jack Straw" might be termed the story of a missing identity contest. To unravel it a register, in the nature of a "Who's who in society," might be used.

John Drew played the dual role of Jack Straw and Archduke of Pomerania. Some four years before the curtain went up, the archduke had fallen in love with an actress in his own capital. His grandfather was furious and sent the actress "packing" in a hurry. Young, impulsive and hot-headed, the archduke, knowing no law save his own will, followed the lady of his choice, only to discover that she had already had three more or less awful husbands and not caring for the doctrines of Mormonism, he decided to see a bit of life.

So he drifted. In various roles of life he played, taking part in some five or six means of livelihood, in one of them meeting Ambrose Holland. When the play opened, to oblige a friend, he had become a waiter for a night, and there met his acquaintance, whose friend, Lady Wanley, had been deeply insulted by Mrs. Parker Jennings, newly rich, with more money than manners.

Lady Wanley planned a unique revenge, and asked Jack Straw's aid, proposing to introduce him under some high sounding title, play with the Jennings for some time, and then manage a "grand expose," thus paying back the slight with interest.

Consents to Act Part.

Jack Straw at first refused, but a few minutes later was called to the table of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings and there insulted by Mrs. Jennings. In addition, his eyes had met those of Ethel, the daughter, and, falling in love with her at first sight, he determined to accept the offer. Asked what name he would prefer, he chose his own, the Archduke of Pomerania.

Jack Straw became one of the family. Finally, the expose came, but Jack Straw had in the meantime been introduced at a great reception to all the best people of London, and flatly refused to leave the home when ordered to do so, and showed them they could not afford to have him arrested or thrown out, because of the resulting scandal. Finally, his real identity was revealed, and he won the girl he loved and received the consent of his father to the match.

In the role of the archduke, a man perfectly at home, absolutely confident and secure in the safety of an almost impregnable position, John Drew did a great piece of acting in the scene where he was denounced as an impostor, and in the act of the morning after, when, in the same nonchalant, pleasantly insolent vein, he made himself the master of the house, ordered the servants around, drank his unwilling host's wine, smoked his cigars, and cut the flowers of Mrs. Jennings to present them to a visitor.

Always at home on the stage, he appeared a part of it in these last two acts. His work was flawless in every detail, and so well did he fit the part that one would almost believe the role was written for him were it not for the knowledge that the play was acted first in London.

Never has Atlanta witnessed a more consummate bit of character work than that of Rose Coghlan as Mrs. Jennings in the second act. Imagine a woman, who, believing for hours that she was entertaining a real live archduke, had been bowing and scraping servilely before him, and introducing him gladly to all her friends, suddenly learning that she was the hostess of a waiter. Aching to use physical violence, and restrained by the knowledge that her "washerwoman days" were over and that she must act like a lady, the poise of Miss Coghlan in this scene was almost perfect. Her repression was more wonderful than her expression. It was a thing of beauty and joy forever to watch the expression of her face, to gather there the struggle going on in her mind between the "plebeian" and patrician feelings. Once she would have put him out of her home unaided. Now she could only impotently wring her hands, and in a voice that was almost a whisper, and half a sob of distress, by turns begged, requested and commanded him to leave.

Miss Mary Boland as Ethel Jennings was excellent in her part. Not much more than looking was required by her lines, but she improved every opportunity, and bids fair to be added to the long list of John Drew leading ladies, who are now heading companies of their own.

The scenic effects and the costuming were elaborate and exquisite. In the exactness of detail, they resembled some Belasco production.

At the Lyric.

There will be a matinee and night performance of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at the Lyric today, and there will be regular Friday and Saturday night performances and another matinee on Saturday.

The attraction is decidedly popular. It is a standard success and is classed with the great big dramatic events of things theatrical. It is a play that is worth seeing, and it is the sort of play that will always appeal to Americans, for it is a story of America and particularly of the south. "Mrs. Wiggs" is one of those delightful old dears one will meet in most any southern city or wherever there is a breath of the south.

"The Gay Musician."

Musical circles and the amusement-loving public are much elated to know that this city is to have an opportunity of hearing the new comic opera, "The Gay Musician," by the renowned composer, Julian Edwards, with book and lyrics by Sledle and Campbell, which comes to the Grand Friday and Saturday nights, with matinee Saturday.

In Baltimore, where "The Gay Musician" was seen early this year, it scored a complete triumph. Then in Philadelphia it again evoked the praise of all the critics and the public.

At the Orpheum.

The "Star Bout" is about the liveliest exhibition of skill ever pulled off in Atlanta. The play is full of action from the very start to the finish of the fight. There is not a single dull moment, and not a thing is done or said but what would meet the approval of the most refined person. As there is a live boxing match during the action of the play, one might think that an exhibition of this kind would not appeal to women and children, but such is not the case. There has not been a play presented in vaudeville this season which has a prettier plot, or more interesting little love story. A number of actresses are in the cast, and it is not staged exclusively to meet the pleasures of men who crave sports—it is a show in which all sexes and classes will rave over.

Cars Blown Over.

Wilmington, N. C., March 3.—While standing at a water tank at Dudley, near Goldsboro, N. C., this afternoon a gale, accompanied by a heavy fall of hail throughout sections of the state, struck the middle of a Wilmington-bound Atlantic Coast Line train of fifty-five cars, blowing five of them clear of the main line and overturning one on the track. There was no other damage. At Clinton, N. C., in the same locality, several houses were unroofed and some blown down. At a sawmill, 4 miles from Clinton, a tree was blown down, killing a negro employee.

Cotton Brings 9 1-4.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

For over 40 years this celebrated remedy has been making women's lives happier—healthier—safer.

Many thousands of women have testified to its wonderful effect.

The "Favorite Prescription" is

THE ONE REMEDY that can be depended upon when there is any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism. It purifies, heals, soothes, builds up.

THE ONE REMEDY which absolutely contains neither alcohol (which to most Women is rank poison) nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY which is so perfect in its composition and so good in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient, as they do, on its outside wrapper, verifying the same under solemn oath.

It is needed when backaches make life miserable—when a sickening, dragging, bearing-down feeling makes work a weary agony—when sick headache, nervous irritability, loss of energy and appetite indicate derangement of the womanly organism. It is a purely vegetable compound, being a glyceric extract from native medicinal roots and can not injure in any condition of the female system.

BINION RESIGNS; FARMER ELECTED

Strained Football Situation at Mercer University Ends--Binion's Letter.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—The athletic authorities at Mercer university and the members of the football team are highly elated over the sudden solution of the football problem at Mercer, which was made possible by the resignation of Clay Binion, captain-elect of the football team, and the unanimous election of Tom Farmer as his successor.

It will be remembered that at the close of the recent football season at Mercer Clay Binion was elected captain. There was some dissatisfaction as a result of his election. Binion had made a splendid showing in the football annals of the university and had played excellently in every game, but this being his first year in college, it was thought that some older member of the squad deserved the captaincy. No one recognized this more than Binion himself, and he persistently refused to run up until just before the election, when certain of his friends induced him to run for them, and answering their repeated entreaties, he announced and was elected, feeling that if he could be of any honor to his friends he was willing to do so.

Later some dissatisfaction arose, and Binion wanted to resign, but these same friends influenced him otherwise. As the situation grew more strained, Binion refused to be persuaded longer, and proved his loyalty to the best interests of the team by tendering his resignation to Professor Edward T. Holmes, chairman of the athletic council, in the following loyal letter:

Professor E. T. Holmes, Chairman of Athletic Committtee, Mercer University—Dear Sir: Believing that the highest interest of Mercer's 1909 football team will be subserved under the leadership of some one other than myself, I have determined, after mature deliberation, to resign the position of captain. In taking this step I want to assure you that it is with no ill-feeling towards any member of the team nor with any idea that my efforts as a layman shall be any the less in contributing what I may toward a successful season. If it be my good fortune to return to Mercer next fall, I shall be found at all times working with all my might to see that Mercer's colors shall float triumphantly through every contest. In resigning, I do so with determination to work as earnestly and as enthusiastically under my successor as I would expect every man to work under me were I his captain. Respectfully submitted, (Signed) CLAY BINION.

Particularly does this action on the part of Binion meet with approval, for it bespeaks his loyalty and insures the return of last year's gritty quarter back as well, who otherwise, in all probability, would not have returned.

The air is full of football at Mercer now. Everything bids favorable to a most promising year. With practically the entire team of last fall back, a brilliant nucleus will be given Coach Frank Blake when he starts practice next fall. Dunaway, Poole, Gillespie, Bell, Farmer, Binion, Salter, Griffith and perhaps Scoggins and several others of last year's team will be on hand next fall. With Frank Blake to coach them, and with a fine schedule for the team, the students of Mercer believe that they will rank among the best colleges in the state and the south next fall.

GREAT OVATION GIVEN TO JAMES J. JEFFRIES

Pugilist Welcomed to New York by Crowd of Admirers.

New York, March 3.—James J. Jeffries was accorded a remarkable demonstration on his arrival here today. A crowd of nearly 2,000 people gathered at the Grand Central station and wildly cheered the pugilist as he elbowed his way to a carriage. Jeffries was accompanied by his wife and sparring partner, Sam Berger.

Jeffries appeared to be in good physical condition, notwithstanding he has been for years out of the ring. His eyes were clear and bright and he said he believed he could reduce to normal fighting weight in time. The pugilist said:

"I have been training lightly for several weeks and have reduced my weight to about 245 pounds. Each day I find that I can box faster than the day before, and I am delighted to find that my wind is in good shape. I feel first rate, but I can't say definitely whether I will again enter the ring or not. I have been out of the ring four years and that may make it impossible for me to attain strict championship form again."

PRACTICE HELD DESPITE WIND

Reds and Crackers Had Jolly Time of It Yesterday.

Despite the windy day yesterday, Fox Griffith and his men turned out to Ponce de Leon to practice, together with several of the Crackers and some other celebrities of the baseball field.

No hard work was indulged in yesterday and none will probably be taken until the latter part of next week, when the first practice games are scheduled. The work on yesterday was as on all previous ones, batting, pitching and chasing flies or grounders, every man on the teams taking turn about in the different positions, and, all in all, it was a good practice.

The lack of catchers has been of great benefit to all the players, and the pitchers especially. With a catcher on hand, the men would be tempted to let out a little, but with such keen eyes as Clark Griffith and Billy Smith watching them, they would have a time doing it at that.

The park yesterday was a sign of activity in the afternoon. There were twenty players out and every one was in a good humor. Such kidding as the men carried on was to an onlooker better than a circus, and the antics of some of the players who are about 20 pounds over weight was ridiculous in the extreme.

Next week, however, it will look as if a small sized army of ball players had been turned loose in Atlanta, with twenty-seven Atlanta players and thirty-five Cincinnati players in uniform and on the grounds at the same time; then for the first game next Thursday every one will be on hand that can possibly get away, and those that can't will be sure to be there on Saturday.

SUTTON'S BOWLERS WIN THREE STRAIGHT GAMES

The second match game of the fifth round of the bowling tournament at the Atlanta Athletic Club was played last night by the teams captained by Sutton and Fay, and the former won all three games and brought Fay's team average down considerably. Fay's team now has an average of .733; Sutton's team has an average of .600.

The highest individual score of the evening was rolled by Fay, with 210. Born rolled the second highest score, making 201. The highest individual average of the evening was rolled by Coll, who made 186 2-3 for the three games.

The summary follows:

Playes.	1st	2nd.	3rd.
Sutton	168	161	*149
Coll	174	196	190
Born	*113	*116	201
Mitchell	157	146	161
Totals	499	503	552
Fay	162	118	210
Rushton	139	154	170
Rappole	173	149	128
Totals	474	421	508

*These games don't count in the totals.

Tonight Williams' team plays McGinty's, and tomorrow night Clarke's team plays Hall's.

OXYGEN TREATMENT MADE CORBETT STRONG

New York, March 3.—The administration of oxygen, considered by most persons as a fanciful scheme for strengthening athletes under strain, proved a boon to Young Corbett in his fight with Johnny Marlow, in which he had a shade the better last night. His natural courage, combined with the oxygen treatment, enabled him to put up the fight which surprised so many of his followers. Copious doses were given to him after each round and the effect was immediately noticeable. While some experts declare the fight was a draw, the victory was generally conceded to Corbett.

The oxygen treatment it is predicted will be used often in the future.

Receivers for Railroad.

Pittsburg, March 3.—H. W. McMaster and F. H. Skeldin were today reappointed receivers of the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal Railway Company by Judge Young, of the United States circuit court.

NO MORE COUPONS WILL BE PRINTED

Uncle Sam Puts Kibosh on the Team Standing Contest.

Under a ruling of the postoffice department The Constitution is forced to discontinue publication of coupons for the team standing contest, which had proved so popular with baseball fans not only in Atlanta but all over Georgia and the south. The department holds that inasmuch as there is an element of chance in the contest, it is contrary to the postal regulations and consequently to continue publication would result in having the paper barred from the mails.

Under this ruling it would still be possible for The Constitution to continue the contest for those of its subscribers who are not served through the mails, but as The Constitution wishes in all respects to observe the spirit of the law, as well as the letter, it has been decided to discontinue the contest entirely. In this action The Constitution has been largely influenced by the fact that to continue publication of the coupons would possibly make trouble for innocent subscribers, for after the ruling of the department any one who mailed a copy of the paper containing the coupon would be violating the postal laws.

All guesses already sent in will be preserved and award of the season ticket will be made on May 15. As only guesses written on coupons will be counted and as no more coupons will be printed, the contest is now practically closed, and it only remains for the work of the different teams of the Southern League to demonstrate who has made the best guess.

EDDIE JONES TO MEET KERR IN NASHVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., March 3.—The first boxing bout under the new Tennessee law will take place here Friday night under the auspices of the Tennessee Athletic Club, recently chartered. The contestants will be Billy Kerr, the "Bowery Boy," of New York, and Eddie Jones, said to be Atlanta's best at his weight. These men are 140-pounders and will go the distance as allowed by the new law—eight rounds of three minutes each, with 6-ounce gloves.

SOME ATLANTA PLAYERS LEAVE HOMES TODAY

Every day the newspapers have reports of this or that big league team leaving for their practice grounds and before this week is over every big league team will have started their practice for the season of 1909.

Today some of the candidates for positions on the 1909 Cracker team will leave their homes for Atlanta. On tomorrow more will follow and on Saturday practically all of the men will be en route here.

There are twenty-nine men in all on the list to be tried out by Manager Smith. There are five outfielders, nine infielders, three catchers and twelve pitchers. Of these twenty-nine men, fourteen will have to be dropped by May 15, the last day for handing out the pink slips, although some of the men will probably be handed theirs a little sooner than that. With such utility men as Fisher and Smith on the team, it looks like it will not be necessary to carry a utility man along and another pitcher could be used, but of course that is Manager Smith's business and he will decide it as he sees fit.

Notter to Ride in Europe.

New York, March 3.—Joe Notter, who headed the list of winning jockeys on the Metropolitan tracks last year and is one of the best riders ever developed in this country, sailed yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II to fulfil a contract made to ride in Germany this year. Notter was under contract to James B. Keene last season and won many rich stakes for the vice chairman of the Jockey Club. He handled unbeaten Colin in his three winning races; he rode Celt to victory in the Brooklyn handicap; he brought Ballot home in the Suburban and four other races, and he won the Classic Futurity with Maskette. During the season he handled 169 winners.

Rhodes Scholar Won.

Oxford, March 3.—At the Oxford university sports this afternoon L. C. Hull, of Michigan, a Rhodes scholar, won the 100-yard dash and the quarter-mile.

TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., March 3.—The weather was fine, but track slow today. Emily Almanac, ridden by Obert, finished first in the sixth race, but was disqualified for fouling. The betting on her was 4 to 5. In the first, Revery, 8 to 1, wheeled right after the start and was pulled up. Summaries:

FIRST RACE—About 5 furlongs: Pearl Hopkins, 8 to 1, won; Fresh, 6 to 1, second; Brown Jug, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:03.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs: Eustacian, even, won; Prince Alert, 10 to 1, second; Hawk's Flight, 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:16½.

THIRD RACE—About 5 furlongs: Cloistress, 5 to 2, won; John A. Munro, 6 to 1, second; Pinion, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:02½.

FOURTH RACE—About 5 furlongs: Birdslayer, even, won; Alex Grant, 30 to 1, second; Lady Fitzherbert, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:02½.

FIFTH RACE—Mile and a half: Teetah, 3 to 5, won; Dr. Young, 3 to 1, second; Bright Boy, 4 to 1, third. Time, 2:44.

SIXTH RACE—About 5 furlongs: Wheatbread, 7 to 2, won; Platt, 4 to 1, second; Lord Direct, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:03¼. Emily Almanac finished first, but was disqualified for fouling.

SCOTT CARTER SIGNS WITH JACKSON TEAM

Scott Carter, the local amateur baseball player, who played last season with the Georgia Railway and Electric Company team, has signed to play an infield position with Carlos ("Horseshoe") Smith's Jackson, Miss., Cotton States League team during the coming season.

Smith signed Carter on the recommendation of Manager Billy Smith, of the Atlanta team, who considers Carter one of the fastest amateurs in the state, and he furthermore feels confident that if given the chance, Carter will make good with a rush with Jackson.

Hughes a Yankee.

New York, March 3.—(Special.)—Tom Hughes, the long twirler, who was formerly a member of the Atlanta Crackers, has signed his 1909 contract as a member of the New York Highlanders, and Tom expects to have the best season of his career this year.

DOUGLAS, ARIZONA.

The Winning Wonder of the West.

A city eight years old and a population of 12,000 souls. The most modern city of its age in the United States. An altitude of 3,950 feet and during 1908 had 301 sunshiny days. Summer nights are always cool and winters mild, short and sunshiny. An unexcelled mining center and supply point for the great Southwest. The principal port of entry and gateway to the great Sonora, Mexico, mining districts. A natural distributing center. Here are located the mammoth smelters of the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Company and the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, which produced more than 51 per cent of Arizona's production of 274,000,000 pounds during 1908. TWO new smelters will be built during 1909. Headquarters of the El Paso and Southwestern and Nacozarri railroads, and three new railways are being built to this city as fast as iron and ties can be laid. An annual payroll of more than $3,000,000. A city of beautiful homes. Broad streets and avenues. Modern business houses. The finest hotel and hotel accommodations between the Pacific coast and the Missouri river, affording sojourners all the luxuries of an eastern metropolis. A public school system unsurpassed. Churches of every denomination. Gas and electric lights, an ample water system and up-to-date electric street car system.

The Chamber of Commerce and Mines will gladly give further information by addressing W. P. McNair, secretary, Douglas.

DEMOCRATS WIN ON PENAL CODE

may transport the liquor, but it must have nothing else to do with the transaction. The bill is intended to prohibit C. O. D. shipments of liquor to fictitious persons and to break up an arrangement by which the express offices have been made branch offices of the liquor houses. The bill requires that every package of liquor shipped in interstate commerce shall be plainly marked on the outside cover. Violations are punishable by fines of not more than $5,000, or imprisonment for two years, and there is an alternative to the last provision that the liquor seised may be destroyed.

Jurisdiction of Federal Court.

The revision defines more clearly the jurisdiction of the federal court over cases coming within the admiralty and maritime law; it enlarges the statute so as to reach modern developments as to new methods of committing crime, and the extension of American territory; it prohibits not only "obscene" literature, but "filthy" literature from the mails; it eliminates some of the so-called "Kuklux laws."

Practically the only new legislation is that to punish "leaks" of governmental statistical information, and the regulation of interstate shipments of intoxicating liquors. In order that any serious error might be corrected, the bill does not become effective until January 1, 1910, enabling congress, when it meets next December, to correct any serious mistake or omission.

Property Must Be Sold.

Richmond, Va., March 3.—By a decree of the United States circuit court of appeals, issued today, in the case of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, of this city, the opinion of the United States district court, in which Judge Waddill orders the property sold, is affirmed, and the property probably will be sold within the next sixty days. The Goulds, of New York, are largely identified with the properties.

Alleged Tigers Escaped.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Two white men arraigned for the alleged operating of tigers in the city court this morning escaped and thus made the day futile in the effort to catch the accused operators. Fully a dozen separate cases were cleared from the docket before Judge Hodges today and a number of other charges were set for Saturday when there will be no jury.

Burned Store and Home.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Fire, starting in the residence of John Calhoun, on the Houston road, two miles south of the city, destroyed the home and the store adjoining belonging to Mr. Calhoun. The flames broke out at 8 o'clock this morning, and despite the hard fighting of neighbors, a large portion of the stock in the store and the furniture in the residence were destroyed. The losses are partially covered by insurance.

Commerce Commission.

Birmingham, Ala., March 3.—Announcement that the United States interstate commerce commission would meet in Birmingham March 10 was contained today in a telegram received from the commission, asking for reservation of the federal court room. The commission has never met in Birmingham and its coming is a complete surprise. No intimation of the matters to be taken up has been received.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized truth that medicines made from vegetable ingredients are a great deal better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures and compounds. Mercury, potash, arsenic, etc., which are used in the manufacture of most blood medicines, are too violent in their action, and frequently derange the system by disturbing the stomach and digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period often cause Rheumatism. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine guaranteed absolutely and purely vegetable. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying and healing qualities. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood diseases, because it cleanses and purifies the blood, and at the same time builds up the entire system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. S. S. S. may be taken by young and old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure the diseases and disorders due to an impure and poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints. STEPHENSON KEPT CHURCHES IN LINE

Made Donations While Running for Senator.

Witness Says Lutheran Church Got Most of the Candidate's Money—Cash Given to La Follette's Campaign Fund.

Madison, Wis., March 3.—Mary F. Stringham, private secretary to Senator Stephenson, was on the stand when the senatorial primary investigation opened today. A contribution of $1,000 by Senator Stephenson on May 14 for the expenses of the Wisconsin delegation's headquarters at the republican national convention in Chicago was cited. The check was made payable to H. L. Ekern. Many checks were produced, but the names were kept back by Chairman Marsh to avoid bringing out anything not relating to the campaign. One check for $15,000, the witness said, was used for the purchase of certain bonds.

When it came to offering in evidence checks for donations to churches, a controversy ensued. The witness admitted donations to churches were more frequent during the campaign, especially to the Lutheran.

Miss Stringham this afternoon identified two checks for $1,000 each, and stated that one given in May was for the expense of the delegates to the national convention and that one given in January was to Senator La Follette's presidential campaign fund. The checks were admitted in evidence. Miss Stringham agreed to send all the letters on file at Marinette connected with the campaign to the committee and then was excused.

Lieutenant Governor John Strange told the committee a check for $50 which he received on account of W. H. Hatton was sent to him with instructions that it be turned over to C. H. Perry, son of William M. Perry, a candidate for the assembly in Winnabago county. Strange said he had no connection with any campaign.

Charged With Arson.

New Orleans, March 3.—Charles Rouff, president of the French Novelty Company, and C. A. McAllister, manager of the Empire theater, who were arrested on the charge of arson last night, were released on bail of $2,500, this afternoon. Their incarceration followed an official investigation last night of a fire which broke out on the fourth floor of the French Novelty Company in Canal street. A portion of the first floor of the building was occupied by the Empire Moving Picture theater.

He will be in Atlanta March 11, and at that time it is expected he will agree to come to Macon. Dr. Jameson has already sent an invitation, and an answer is expected. Should the distinguished university president decide to come to Macon, elaborate arrangements will be made for entertaining him while he is here.

"CANNED MUSIC" BILL PASSED BY CONGRESS

Provides Author of Musical Composition Shall Receive Two Cents Per Disc.

Washington, March 3.—Both houses of congress today passed a bill to amend and consolidate the copyright laws. Bills upon this subject have been before the senate and house for a number of years, but differences of opinion over the protection to be given composers of music, especially when their works were reproduced by mechanical devices, prevented the enactment of a law.

Early today the house passed the bill which was introduced in the senate during the present session by Senator Smoot, and in the house by Mr. Currier, and tonight the bill was messaged to the senate and immediately passed. There was no discussion in the senate, and very little in the house.

The "canned music" provision is that the author of a musical composition shall receive two cents per disc, or roll, when manufactured for reproduction.

The bill enacted is a complete revision of all the copyright laws.

Maloney Out on Bond.

New Orleans, March 3.—Attorney Robert J. Maloney, of New Orleans, who, in the capacity of a notary, is alleged to have defrauded clients of sums aggregating $300,000, was released under bond of $80,000 today. Maloney has been in jail here for several months.

All-Wool Clothes, Properly Tailored

ALL-WOOL IS EVEN MORE important in the light-weight fabrics used for spring and summer than the heavier winter materials, because cotton-mixed fabrics will not hold shape and in the light weights are particularly poor for wear.

And light-weight garments, to fit and drape correctly, must be carefully tailored; there are no heavy linings and padding to help hold shape.

So, it behooves every man to be careful in buying clothes this spring. There will be plenty of mercerized-cotton-mixed and poorly-tailored clothing on the market; some of it at low prices, some at high valuations; all priced more than its worth, for such stuff is never satisfactory, no matter how little or how much it is sold for.

You'll be safe if you come here and buy Rogers, Peet & Co. or Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes, for every garment is all-wool and hand-tailored.

Our own assurance of entire satisfaction is backed by the guarantee of the makers; and we invite you to put these clothes to the severest tests you can devise.

MYSTERIOUS MEN ARE BEING SOUGHT

Who Inquired About Carmack's Office Hours.

Prosecution Thinks It Has Clue to Identity of One of These Men—It Develops That There Are Nine Patterson Supporters on the Jury.

Nashville, Tenn., March 3.—After a strenuous recess day on the part of counsel on both sides in the Cooper-Sharp trial for the murder of Former United States Senator E. W. Carmack only two facts developed. One was that S. J. Bennings, the mysterious defense's witness, who claimed he saw Senator Carmack revolving the cylinder of a gun, which will not revolve, will be recalled for further cross-examination by the state.

The other was the feverish activity of the special agents or secret police of the prosecution. It developed that this activity was due to Attorney General McCarn's belief that he had discovered a clue to the identity of one of three mysterious men who would make valuable witnesses for the prosecution.

Mysterious Men Called.

On the day of Carmack's death—early in the day—three men visited the office of The Nashville Tennessean, of which Senator Carmack was editor. Each of these men asked at the business office if the clerk could give him Mr. Carmack's address, and if he knew about what time the senator went home each afternoon. Two of the men called in the morning or before noon. The clerks in the counting room did not know where Carmack lived. But, after the second inquiry, they secured the information, and when the third man appeared, after 1 p. m., they gave him the address.

"Our clue is very vague," said Attorney General McCarn tonight, "and I doubt if we will be able to use the information. We know that the inquiries were made, and can prove this by Tennessean employees. But unless we can identify the men who made them, and then further connect them directly with a conspiracy to murder Senator Carmack, under our laws, we could not offer the testimony—even of The Tennessean employees. We are sparing no pains to identify the men, however, despite the apparent hopelessness of the task. Of course, even if we identify the men, they will deny the charge, and we might not be able to connect them with the defendants."

Counsel for Defense Active.

Counsel for defense were not less active. Old and new witnesses visited their offices all day, and a number of new subpoenas were issued on their behalf.

It became generally known today that counsel for the prosecution would not cross-examine either Governor M. R. Patterson or Adjutant General Tully Brown. At the same time it became just as well known that the attorneys for the state disagreed as to the wisdom of this proceeding. At least two of the attorneys for the prosecution are strong political enemies of the chief executive. These favored grilling the governor. The other, however, objected for two reasons. First, they considered that the governor's testimony simply corroborated that of other witnesses as to the famous conferences the day of the tragedy. These conferences the state admits took place.

Secondly, of the twelve jurors, nine are Patterson supporters, and it was not deemed advisable to attack the governor on this account.

INSPECTOR LYNCH ASSIGNED TO GEORGIA

National Pure Food Inspector Will Cooperate With Inspector Methvin.

National Pure Food Inspector J. L. Lynch, under the United States department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., has been assigned to Georgia by Secretary James Wilson of that department, to cooperate with Pure Food Inspector Methvin, of Georgia, in rigidly enforcing the national pure food law in this state. Inspector Lynch has arrived in Atlanta and has undertaken his duties in this connection.

The reason for this assignment was that Pure Food Inspector Methvin found a great many interstate cases which came under his observation and which he was not able to deal with owing to the fact he is only a state inspector.

With the arrival of Inspector Lynch, Georiga becomes the leading pure food state in the south. The greatest number of confiscations under this law recently have been those of mixed grains and mixed animal feeds. For years Georgia was the dumping ground for all adulterated concentrated feeding stuffs, but since the pure food law has been in vogue this state has been practically freed of them.

Cotton seed meal, which measures up more nearly to the food standard of the state adn national governments in regard to feeding stuff, is forging rapidly to the front and is now recognized as the leading as well as the cheapest cattle feed in the south.

The inspectors report that this feed is being used more generally throughout the state than ever before.

The state department of agriculture will go more rigidly into the enforcement of the state and national pure food laws than ever before.

NO NEW STATES.

Arizona and New Mexico Still Out—Bill Tabled.

Washington, March 3.—Notwithstanding the failure of the senate committee on territories to report the bill granting statehood to Arizona and New Mexico, the supporters of that measure today forced a vote in the senate on the proposition.

Opportunity came in connection with the house resolution directing the secretary of state to renew the negotiations with Russia, looking to a treaty, which would prohibit discrimination against American Jews in Russia. Senator Cullom called up the resolution, but before it could be voted upon, Senator Owen proposed the statehood bill as an amendment. Without debate, a vote was taken on a motion to lay on the table and it carried, 47 to 35. The resolution regarding the course of Russia towards the Jews was then adopted.

ROWAN ELECTED COUNTY CHIEF

Resignation of Chief Turner Accepted by County Commissioners.

The resignation of A. Q. Turner, chief of the county police, was read and accepted at the meeting of the board of county commissioners on yesterday morning, and Zach E. Rowan, of the city detective force, was unanimously elected his successor. Mr. Rowan was deputized by Sheriff Mangum shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon, from which time his duties as chief became effective. No reason is given by Chief Turner in his resignation.

ZACK ROWAN
Was Elected Chief of County Police To Succeed A. Q. Turner Yesterday.

After the election of Mr. Rowan as county chief of police, the motion of Commissioner Anderson was adopted, authorizing County Attorney Luther Rosser to present at the next legislature a bill to bring the county police department under the provisions of a recent amendment to the constitution, which makes the county police a distinct organization, with powers higher than deputy sheriffs.

Chief Rowan, before his being elected to the city detective force, was for a number of years a mounted officer and is one of the best known policemen in the county.

Chief Turner surrenders his badge after nine years of efficient service, during which time he made many friends.

The election of a new county chief followed a number of important matters transacted by the board.

The Atlanta Northeastern Railroad Company made application for a franchise to construct its line in Fulton county, beginning at a point on North Boulevard and running out Peachtree road to the DeKalb county line. This company proposes to use cars operated by gasoline motors and electricity. The petition was referred to the committee on roads and bridges. It was decided that Fulton county should ask for convicts surrendered by other counties to any number not exceeding 400.

The report of the committee on the paving of Washington street with bitulithic to Ormond street was adopted, and the work will begin as soon as practicable. It was decided to place macadam material on Ormond street to Hill.

A petition from several property owners on Decatur street was received, asking for bitulithic pavement from Waddell to Yonge streets. It was referred to the public works committee.

Special New Spring Skirts at Special Five-Dollar Sale

There are exactly 120 of them--and every one a beauty. We will sell them today at five dollars apiece--altho not a skirt of the kind has ever been sold for less than seven-fifty. Indeed, there are many of the lot that are our regular $10 and $11.75 Skirts.

Yet today $5 will be the price of any of these Skirts. Let us tell you exactly what they are.

They're Spring Walking Skirts, of Panama, hard-finish worsted and serge. There are a few elegant black voiles among them, satin-trimmed and elegant.

The models are brand-new. They're not extreme. They're good, ladylike, neat, attractive Skirts. They're made for service. Now, in a few days you'll be leaving your coat at home and you'll find the coat-suit-skirt quite too shabby and heavy to go with your trim, pretty new shirtwaists. You'll want a light, fresh, shapely, good-looking skirt if you do the proper thing by your appearance.

Therefore the special offer of these Skirts comes to you in the nature of a providential opportunity.

Think of it--Five Dollars!

The colors are extremely good. Here are browns, tans, grays, greens--those pretty leaf-greens in several shades--blues, blacks. All sizes and quite a goodly variety of styles.

We capitally doubt your having so good a value presented you in many months to come.

REMARKABLE TRIBUTE PAID TO FARIBANKS

Senate Gives Him Magnificent Silver Service Costing $1,855.

Washington, March 3.—Behind closed doors, the senate today paid to Vice President Fairbanks one of the most remarkable tributes ever given to a presiding officer. He was presented with a magnificent silver service, costing $1,185, as the gift of the entire body of senators, and with a loving cup, as the present of the democratic members.

The presentation of the silver service was made by Senator McCumber.

Senator Daniel spoke for the minority, dilating upon Mr. Fairbanks' uniform fairness. He suggested that, if at any time, Mr. Fairbanks did tire of the monotonous service in the republican party, the democrats would be glad to welcome him. He facetiously suggested that it would not be well for Mr. Fairbanks to take more than one draught from the flagon before breakfast, if it should happen to get filled with other than buttermilk.

Sister Mary Borgia.

Nashville, Tenn., March 3.—Sister Mary Borgia, principal of the Loretto Academy, is dead at Huntsville, Ala.

IN THE COURTS

Hugh T. Inman yesterday filed in the superior court a bond for title in the sum of $300,000 for the property purchased from Mrs. Rebecca D. Gunton several days ago, which is located at 39-41 Whitehall street, and occupied at present by M. R. Emmons & Co.

On the grounds that he cruelly beat and struck her, and later deserted her, Mrs. Mattie Lou Epps, through her attorneys, J. D. Kilpatrick and C. B. Rosser, Jr., yesterday filed a suit in the superior court for a total divorce from her husband, Marion Epps. Mrs. Epps asks that her maiden name, Mattie Lou Billips, be restored to her.

After finding nine true bills of indictment and three no-bills, the Fulton county grand jury, which began its meeting Monday, adjourned on yesterday, to meet again Monday morning. The bills were of minor importance. The jurors inspected the jail during the day.

The petition of Samuel M. Rogowskie to change his name to Samuel M. Ruskin, together with the same Christian name being applied to all the members of his family, was granted by Judge Pendleton, of the superior court, yesterday.

TWO NEGRO FOOTMEN SELECTED BY TAFT

To Replace Policemen at North Door of the White House.

Washington, March 3.—Thomas E. Stone, now chief usher at the white house, will succeed Major Charles D. A. Loeffler as doorkeeper to the president.

I. H. Hoover, of this city, becomes chief usher; Charles Pusey will be assistant doorkeeper to the president, and Patrick E. McKenna chief of messengers.

The policemen will be taken away from the north door of the white house, which is the residential part of the building, and in view of Mr. Taft's desire that the entrance shall be for friends of the family the same as that of private residences, two negro footmen, who have served the Tafts at their homes in the past, will replace the usual two policemen.

Hold Revival.

Montzuma, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Protracted meetings began at the Methodist church Sunday. Rev. McGhee is ably assisted by Rev. Charles Lane. Much has been accomplished from the meetings, which will continue a week or ten days.

Discouraged?

"Do As I Did"

writes Mrs. A. J. Smith, of Trego, Wis., "and take that good medicine, Cardui, for your troubles.

"Before I commenced to take Cardui, I was so sick and discouraged I thought I would never get well, and did not care if I didn't. I suffered terrible pain, every month, and had displacement and other female troubles.

"I took a lot of medicine before I could notice any difference, but now I feel better than in fourteen (14) years, I have no more pain, the female trouble is cured, and I am so well that I do all my own work, milk six cows, night and morning, and wash and cook for seven persons."

If this is not a remarkable record, nothing is. It must have a message for you, telling you what you might expect for yourself, as a result of taking Cardui, for any ailment that is yours, as a result of womanly weakness.

No matter how weak you may feel; no matter how long you may have suffered; no matter how many other medicines have failed; do not be discouraged. Take Cardui. It will help you.

CONSTITUTION PUBLISHING CO.

ATLANTA, GA., March 4, 1909.

Nobody has thought to interview Mr. Sherman.

Looks like we shall have to put March in the gimlet club.

Those runaway senators lost their heads, but kept their feet.

When Taft goes into History they will have to widen the doors.

Roosevelt passes into History, and won't he make History see stars!

Don't be disconsolate. We may have an earthquake or two to remind us of him.

This is the day the members of the Ananias Club are released on probation.

To accommodate the crowds, Taft should have been inaugurated in installments.

He will be a militant missionary to the cannibal heathen—one that will not be in the soup.

They are not yet rid of Roosevelt. He may take a notion to burn a few bridges behind him.

Perhaps the janitor of the white house will use the big stick as a handle for a lawn mower.

It is said that the malefactors of great wealth will soon learn that the Taft smile can come off.

What you think is a graceful gliding airship may only be a Merry Widow hat in a March wind.

Today he is "at home" to the whole country, but he will find it impossible to return his party calls.

Mr. Taft's good nature is unbounded; but just wait till his collar button rolls under his new cabinet!

The real martyrs of the English suffragette movement are the husbands that have to keep house.

Washington hasn't all the limelight. There's Tennessee, with thirteen runaway senators and the Cooper trial.

If Mr. Root had that nervous feeling it wasn't because of a rattling noise from walking around in Platt's shoes.

The thorough training Sunny Jim has had under Uncle Joe will enable him to lord it effectually over the senate.

The reception to the president in Texas will be unique, in that the red-headed widows will be used as a torchlight procession.

It is well that the latchstring is on the outside in Washington—it will be convenient for those who have no place to hang up.

As Africa is now the country of malefactors of great wealth, Mr. Roosevelt may find bigger game than the white rhinocerous.

The Ananias Club didn't present Roosevelt with a jeweled knife, but the members are doubtless willing to subscribe to a box of dynamite.

There are snakes in Africa that can swallow a rhinoceros, but the courtesies of the occasion may prevent them from swallowing a white one.

A Pennsylvania woman refused to give up her husband for $40,000. But perhaps he can cook, keep house, look after the children, and doesn't mind getting up for the doorbell on bridge nights.

BR'ER 'POSSUM IN THE NAME OF THE LAW!

Killing two birds with one stone isn't a circumstance to the achievement of Judge Frank Park, of the Albany circuit.

For with one happy and perspicuous discovery of a forgotten law, he has stayed the onsweeping extinction of Br'er 'Possum and drawn the attention of the state to the neglected, costly and confusing status of the codification of the statutes of the state.

As detailed elsewhere, Judge Park was the unintentional means of threatening the future existence of the marsupial in the state of Georgia.

His patriotic effort to supply the famous Taft Atlanta banquet with its now famous 'possum course, started a national demand that has raised the price of the luxurious marsupial from fifty cents to five dollars.

From Rabun Gap to Tybee Light, therefore, the hunt has been in progress to supply the demand the country over.

The swamps and the thickets couldn't stand that sort of drain long.

But the twinkling-eyed little animal is to be saved from utter destruction by due process of law. Judge Park has discovered a Georgia statute which imposes specifically a closed season for 'possum from March 1 to October 1.

Even now hundreds of Georgians are inadvertently law-breakers, laying themselves liable to penalties prescribed in the code.

Judge Park will charge his grand juries with the necessity for the protection of the lowly animal, and he will quote the Georgia law on the subject.

His discovery emphasizes the fact that the Georgia laws have not been codified since 1895, more than fourteen years.

It is no wonder that our judicial processes are cumbered with technicality, and that many of our best lawyers are either in ignorance of important provisions or experience difficulty in preparing and prosecuting cases out of the beaten track. And if it's that way even with the lawyers, how can we blame the 'possum hunters who have been violating the law since March 1?

Billy 'Possum should be infinitely thankful for the timely discovery of Judge Park.

COOPERATIVE ROAD BUILDING.

Realization in fullest measure of the possibilities under the new system which is soon to place practically the entire working convict force of the state upon the public roads, can come only through harmonious understanding and effort on the part of the counties which have decided to take advantage of this progressive opportunity.

Already, here and there, agreements have been made with this particular end in view. A convention for the promotion of a road from Chatham, through Effingham and Screven, headed toward Augusta, has just been held at Springfield, the county seat of Effingham, where the good roads movement was encouraged by the presence and statements of Governor-elect Joseph M. Brown.

To movements such as this, the state must look for successful and advantageous road building.

The county which goes at this work in hit-or-miss fashion, will not accomplish half so much as that which proceeds systematically to develop those roads which will utimately become part and parcel of great highways crossing the state from east to west and from north to south.

Counties lying between Atlanta and Macon ought to reach, as speedily as possible, some understanding which will lead to the construction of a well-paved roadway between these two cities. From Macon southward there should be planned highways reaching to Savannah, to Brunswick and through Albany to Thomasville. Likewise there should be extensions through the counties to the north of Atlanta, and spurs east and west, bringing into first-class public road connection all of the leading communities of the state.

The more county effort takes this systematic direction, the greater will be the ultimate advantage not only to the whole state, but to the county itself.

Trade and traffic move in the line of least resistance, and there is no more effective obstacle to that motion than a bad road.

The counties, of course, are at liberty to follow their own inclination in the system of road improvement which they adopt, but common sense will dictate that they will make serious mistake if they overlook the value and importance of that cooperative effort which will give them connecting roadways north, south, east and west.

It is one of those state-wide movements which will bring large and substantial return to every county which participates in it.

County cooperation should be the chief policy pursued in road building.

There is not a county in the state that can afford to ignore it.

Talks About Atlanta

Busy Times.

(From The West Point News.)

The sheath gowns are said to be conducive to the development of rubber necks. Atlantans will proceed to get busy.

Betting on Atlanta.

(From The Rome Tribune.)

A discussion is going on in Georgia as to which city has the most blind tigers, Savannah or Atlanta. We'll wager that Atlanta makes a desperate attempt not to be outdone in this matter, as she does all others.

Must Have Been Hit.

(From The Columbus Enquirer-Sun.)

The Dalton Citizen hits Atlanta this way: "There is more pharisaism running around loose in Atlanta just now than there was in Jerusalem during the time of Christ."

Not a Safe Bet.

(From The Griffin News.)

It won't always do to bet on the indecency even of Atlanta.

The Latest Sensation.

(From The Waynesboro Free Citizen.)

Atlanta gets off some kind of a sensation every now and then. Their latest is a crazy mule.

Getting Too Good.

(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

Atlanta drug stores will close on Sundays, and The Washington Herald fears that town is getting too good for this world.

Peculiar Distinction.

(From The Savannah Press.)

Atlanta lays claim to the distinction of being the native heath of one of the San Francisco grafters. No danger of anyone squatting on her claim.

The Atlanta Spirit.

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

The "Atlanta Spirit" now pervades Americus, as the tramp who comes this way robs citizens on the street at the point of his pistol.

To Be Congratulated.

(From The Dalton Citizen.)

Atlanta's birth rate has exceeded her death rate this year. This is as it should be, and Atlanta is to be congratulated on her splendid condition of healthfulness.

"In Holy Atlanta."

(From The Dalton Citizen.)

In holy Atlanta Sunday there were 168 registered at the police barracks for dinner. More than sixty of them were there on account of drunks.

Going All the Gaits.

(From The Monticello News.)

Atlanta is going all the gaits—a street car hold-up in broad daylight is the latest.

What About?

(From The Thomasville Times-Enterprise.)

Poor Atlanta (Ga.), she feels her disgrace keenly.

Restricted Privileges.

(From The Moultrie Observer.)

An Atlanta man wants a divorce from his wife because she nags at him. The privileges of a wife are becoming more restricted all the time. It may yet get to the point where it will be grounds for divorce to ask a husband what he has been doing that he is coming in so late at night.

Constitution Echoes

Looking for Prosperity.

(From The Brockton, Mass., Times.)

The Atlanta Constitution advises people to keep in the middle of the road so that prosperity as it rushes along may take them in.—Norwich Bulletin.

And then again some say prosperity lurks in the fields over the fence. Where the deuce are we to look for it?

Working Overtime.

(From The Norfolk Pilot.)

"The mountain bar," says The Atlanta Constitution, "doesn't covet the limelight in Georgia." No, but it's a safe guess that it is there and working full time just the same.

A Troublesome Question.

(From The Wappengers Falls, N. Y., Chronicle.)

What troubles us, admits The Atlanta Constitution, is what the chauffeur's going to rest on when he gets under his aeroplane to tighten up the screws.

Easy to Believe.

(From The Anniston Star.)

The Atlanta Constitution says the baby show in that city was a howling success. That is a story easy to believe.

That Vat of Wine.

(From The Washington Herald.)

The Atlanta Constitution printed, under a scare head, that story about a California woman falling into a vat of wine and drowning. Evidently, Georgians had come to doubt there was that much wine in the world!

Anent Cabbages.

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

If The Atlanta Constitution is correctly advised, a Kentucky poet writes that "Cabbages breathe content and corpulent ease." Their breath also advises everybody within two blocks that they are in the pot.

Chattanooga Spirits.

(From The Chattanooga Times.)

There isn't much talk of the "Atlanta spirit" these days. It's the Chattanooga "spirits" that are in demand.

And Dalton a "dry" town, too? Still, if you will have "spirits" you might as well get it from Chattanooga as from Louisville or Cincinnati.

A Hard Problem.

(From The Belton, S. C., Times.)

Just before Thanksgiving The Atlanta Constitution printed a column article on how to carve a turkey. Now if somebody will tell how we can get a turkey the whole problem will be solved.

The Kaiser's Fall.

(From The San Antonio Express.)

The Atlanta Constitution declares the kaiser admits that he has talked himself to a finish. At any rate, it was clearly his talk that finished him and his fall could not have been greater had he gone up in that airship after all.

An Unjust Reflection.

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

The Constitution says the city of Albany is one city that is sincere in its efforts to close up blind tigers. This is an unjust reflection upon Savannah.

Getting Desperate.

(From The Augusta Herald.)

Atlanta is making desperate efforts to get in the limelight again. She has now come forward with an attempted hold-up of a trolley car in broad daylight.

A Charitable City.

(From The Clarkesville Advertiser.)

A Boy on the Situation.

"Paw didn't git in Mr. Taft's cabinet, which he says was too small to hold him, an' anyway, Washin'ton is too fur from home, an' house rent is higher there. Maw says why don't he be a congressman? But Paw says that would never do in the roun' worl'; that it's bad enough to have the sheriff follerin' him around to foreclose a mortgage on him, much less a lot o' secret service men to make life mis'bul for you. So I reckon he'll wind up by jest bein' a plain honest man." F. L. S.

NO LEGAL AUTHORITY FOR SECRET SERVICE

So Says Select Committee of the House In Its Report.

Washington, March 3.—Legislation should be enacted by congress giving a permanent character to the secret service force of the government, according to the report of the select committee of the house to investigate this force, submitted to the house today. This committee consists of Representatives Olmstead, of Pennsylvania; Currier of New Hampshire, Young of Michigan, Brantley of Georgia and Bowers of Mississippi. It was appointed to investigate the amount of appropriations devoted to secret service work and the number of employees engaged therein. The report is unanimous.

"We deem it proper," says the committee, "to call attention to the fact that the secret service division of the treasury department now exists without permanent authority of law, dependent entirely upon appropriations made from year to year, and that the like force in the department of justice is similarly without permanent authority of law, and is paid out of a lump sum appropriation for incidental expenses. Whether the separate forces of secret service men now existing in the treasury department and in the department of justice should be combined in one, under control of the attorney general, we do not attempt to decide, but suggest that whether separately maintained or under one control, they should be permanently provided for and their duties clearly defined and limited by law.

"The total number of employees engaged in the detection or prevention of fraud, whether called secret service men, detectives, special agents, special inspectors or by other names, in all the departments combined, the report says, is found to have been just 100 more than in 1908."

ADVERTISING CLUB WILL ORGANIZE TONIGHT

There will be a meeting tonight, at 7:30 o'clock, of the advertising fraternity of Atlanta, in the convention hall of the Piedmont Hotel, at which time an Advertising Club will be organized and perfected.

This meeting follows a call meeting, held a few days since, when the project was outlined and Dr. T. H. Brannen was named as temporary chairman to receive checks and memberships, in order ascertain the desire for such an organization.

As a result, fifty advertising writers, solicitors, agents and the like have sent in their names and checks, signifying their willingness to join this club, which is to be organized tonight.

Following the business meeting at 7:30 o'clock, when officers will be elected and the constitution and by-laws adopted, there will be a dinner served. Dinners will follow each business meeting of the club.

Larkin With Macon.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Jimmy Larkin, the sensational second baseman who was a member of the Eastern outlaw league last season, has signed a Macon contract. Larkin is touted as one of the best infielders in the business, but he has been playing in the outlaw ranks and is anxious to show what he can do in organized ball, and furthermore wants to return to the protection of the national commission again.

Suffragette Leader Released.

London, March 3.—The home secretary has ordered the release of Mrs. Despard on medical grounds. Mrs. Despard is a leader of the woman suffragettes who recently, with a number of others, was committed to jail for too great activity in the cause at the house of commons.

LIVELY TIMES EXPECTED AT COUNCIL MEETING

Troubles of Clayton and Collier Will Probably Be Aired Today.

The general council will convene in adjourned session this afternoon at 3 o'clock and will take up such routine work as was passed over from the meeting Monday afternoon when the entire session was given up to the redistricting ordinances.

It is barely possible that there will be some lively work before the routine is reached, as Councilman Chambers yesterday stated that he would most likely bring up his resolution looking into the troubles pending between City Engineer Clayton and Commissioner of Public Works Collier.

"I am not sure that I shall try to reopen that subject tomorrow or whether I will allow it to go over until the next regular meeting," said Councilman Chambers yesterday.

If the matter is brought up a warm fight is sure to develop among the members of the council, as both the commissioner and the engineer have friends in that body. The feeling between the two officials for a long time has not been at all pleasant, and has grown until now the troubles are pronounced.

Ambassador Griscom Resigns.

Washington, March 3.—Lloyd C. Griscom, American ambassador at Rome, has sent his resignation to the state department. He intends to devote himself to business after reaching the United States. Following the practice in vogue on the change of administration, the resignations of all members of the diplomatic corps will be forthcoming in the next few weeks.

THREE BURGLARS MAKE ATTACK ON OLD MAN

Decoy Him From His Home and Try to Rob Him.

An old man named David Sears was decoyed from his home, 442 Martin street, last night shortly after 10 o'clock and knocked in the head, presumably for the purpose of robbery. Three men confronted the old man a block from his home, and while one threw a gun in his face, another hit him on the head with a heavy cudgel of some kind, knocking him down and almost unconscious.

Call Officers Barfield and Belcher investigated and arrested Adolph Hill, aged 37 years, a negro, who said he had delivered a message to the old man at his house that the latter was wanted down the street at a telephone.

Sears is about 75 years of age, and a plasterer by trade. He lost nothing.

Watson and Williams Honored.

Washington, March 3.—Representative James E. Watson, of Indiana, the republican whip, and Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, former democratic leader, today received testimonials from their friends upon the eve of their retirement. Mr. Williams was presented with a splendid portrait of himself, and Mr. Watson with a loving cup and a silver service.

Killed by Car.

Mobile, Ala., March 3.—B. B. McCoy, colored, who was cabin boy of the river steamer W. H. Gardiner, that burned to the water's edge in the spring of 1887 at Gainesville, Ala., with a loss of twelve lives, was killed here late last night by an electric car. McCoy saved the lives of six people by swimming with them to the shore.

For Sunday Baseball.

Indianapolis, March 3.—The senate today suspended the regular order of business long enough to pass the new Brooley bill, which legalizes Sunday baseball, to third reading. The vote was 31 to 3. It is planned to put the measure upon its passage in the senate tomorrow. The bill passed the house committee yesterday.

"STOP!"—SPARE THAT 'POSSUM OR BREAK THE STATE LAW!

—Judge Frank Park

Distinguished Albany Jurist, Whose Scouring of Worth County Initiated Demand That Is Extinguishing 'Possums, Digs Up Forgotten Law That Imposes Closed Season for Vanishing Marsupial.

Albany, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Judge Frank Park, of the Albany circuit, was the inadvertent means of starting a national food fashion that threatens the 'possum with extinction.

And, by a happy and laudable discovery, he is now about to accomplish both the vindication of the law and the safeguarding of the marsupial from going the way of the Indian and the buffalo.

He has dug up a forgotten law, and that does not mean a blue law, which reads:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to hunt or catch any opossum in this state between the first day of March and the first day of October of each year, and any persons violating the provisions of this act shall, on conviction therefor, be punished as prescribed in section 1039, volume 3, of the code of 1895."

Judge Park will charge the grand juries of his circuit with the enforcement of this statute, which appears in the volume of legislative acts of 1897.

Law's Cloak for Br'er 'Possum.

Which means that by extending the kindly and majestic cloak of the law over the jeopardized Br'er 'Possum, Judge Park is practicing the most effectual sort of "conservation" in saving one of our most valuable resources for posterity.

Judge Park's complicity in the premises has set heavily on his conscience. It is not stretching it to say that viewing the rapid and seemingly irretrievable extinction of the 'possum has impaired his sleeping ability.

For it was his initiative and enterprise in scouring Worth county for 100 'possums for the famous Taft Atlanta banquet that set a record-breaking demand for the beady-eyed little animal from Maine to California.

In the New York markets he is scarce and becoming scarcer at $3 to $5 a crack.

From being the piece de resistance of the "classy" southern outdoor dinner, he has become the longed-for tidbit of the swell northerners and easterners.

That Ancient Codification.

Stimulated by the clamor from eastern markets, many Georgia counties have almost been beaten dry of 'possums by white and negro hunters. Everything from an army musket to a hickory club and a yellow cur have been used in the chase. Like the water flowing over Niagara, the supply of 'possum has dwindled and dwindled until it has mighty nearly reached the vanishing point.

Presto! Armed cap-a-pie in the dignity of the law of the land, this especial section of which he unearthed by painstaking diligence, Judge Park plunges boldly to the rescue.

He finds that hundreds of hunters, unconsciously, are even now breaking the law all over Georgia. For whoever thought that the staid lawmakers of Georgia would ever have stopped in their mad careering against the rum demon and the railroad octopus to take a fall out of the enemies of Br'er 'Possum!

Yet it is authority no less binding that is now invoked by Judge Park.

Incidentally, it is notable that the laws of Georgia, covering every topic in jurisprudence, have not been codified since 1895.

ATLANTA CAST OF "RIVALS" TO SEE JEFFERSONS IN PLAY

"O wad some power the giftie gie us
To see oursels as ithers see us;
It wad frae many a blunder free us

The entire cast of "The Rivals" from among the famous Players' club of Atlanta, has reserved seats on the two first rows of the Grand for the night of March 10th, when the Jefferson boys will present this play.

This was decided upon at a recent informal meeting of the cast at dinner, where some one suggested that inasmuch as no one of them got to see the entire production, they all go in a body and see just how the play appeared from "out front."

It was agreed and the reservations made for the cast.

Before the Atlanta players presented Sheridan's famous play the gossip of the anticipating playgoers was keyed along: "How will the performance compare with that of Jefferson's?"

Now this order of things is reversed and they are asking: "How will the Jeffersons' production of 'The Rivals' compare with that of the Atlanta Players' club?"

No more critical company has ever seen "The Rivals" than that to be assembled right down in front, for every member of "The Rivals" on either side of the footlights knows practically every line, and all of the "business" of the play, and will be quick to detect any freedom taken with the lines as written for the play.

So well up is each member of the company on these lines that at a recent dinner to the cast the entire first act was gone through with during the service of dinner—minus all business, of course.

The Atlanta company, as stated, was splendid and it is doubtful if they will be any more pleased with what they see than Atlanta was at what was seen.

MARIETTA CAR LINE WILL BE EXTENDED

Work on extending the Marietta street car line for a mile and a half into Inman yards from its present terminus at Longley street will be undertaken immediately. Permission was secured yesterday before the board of Fulton county commissioners to allow this work.

Manager of Railways W. H. Glenn, of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, appeared before the county commissioners and showed the great demand for this extension from the residents in the neighborhood of the Swift fertilizer plant, the Marietta Guano Company and other industries in the neighborhood. Under the present system many Atlanta residents have to walk a mile and a half from their homes to reach the car line to come into the city to trade.

It is expected that the company will next extend the West Peachtree car line from Fifth street to the junction of the two Peachtrees at Eighteenth street.

The car line to Buckhead is to be opened to the public about April 15. It is now operated to Peachtree creek.

SOLONS IN A CLASH.

Browne and Lentz, Democrats, Shake Each Other.

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—Dissension in the democratic minority led to a personal clash in an executive session of the judicial apportionment committee of the house. Bitter words between Minority Leader Lee O'Neill Browne and Representative Lantz were followed by a personal struggle, in which the coat collars of both were disarranged, but no blows struck.

MENU IS UPSET.

Game Laws Interfere With Restaurants and Hotels.

New Orleans, March 3.—Recently enacted game laws in Louisiana have temporarily upset bills of fare, offered for many years by the celebrated New Orleans restaurants. Game of practically every description is tabooed from sale for several months after March 1, and the restaurant people have had their offerings of many choice delicacies summarily curtailed.

Such is the situation which has turned attention to the frog. He is not put down as forbidden quarry, and the Creole chefs are elaborating their art of the culinary preparation of frogs' legs, in which particular line they had long maintained a high reputation. One firm in Rayne, La., has closed a contract for the supplying of 100,000 frogs for the market in New Orleans and other places.

Vain Effort Against Japs.

Sacramento, Cal., March 3.—Another vain attempt was made by the anti-Japanese element in the assembly today to exclude Japanese from the public schools. An unimportant school bill was called up for final passage when an amendment, barring not only Chinese and Japanese, but all Asiatics, was offered. The amendment was voted down.

POLICEMAN ARRESTS HIS FELLOW-OFFICER

An unusual scene was enacted at the police station yesterday morning when Patrolman Swords, of the morning watch, attempted to arrest Policeman A. B. Roberts because he thought the latter was trying to guy him. Officer Swords took Officer Roberts before Captain Beavers, of the morning watch, and the matter was satisfactorily settled.

It seems that Swords has been the subject of a joke for quite a while among his fellow-officers. As the two men were coming off duty, Swords passed Roberts, while the latter was conversing with a friend, and hearing Roberts make some remark, thought it applied to him. He took hold of Roberts and escorted him to the captain's office. Captain Beavers took the couple before Chief Jennings and the chief succeeded in restoring peace. He told the officers not to tease each other any more.

BANK GUARANTY LAW PASSED BY KANSAS

The Trust Companies Allowed to Come Under Law's Provisions.

Topeka, Kan., March 3.—The house and senate voted today to concur in the second conference report on the bank guaranty law and the bill will become a law as soon as it is signed by the governor.

The trust companies are permitted to come under the provisions of the law. New banks must wait a year before being permitted to become guarantee banks, and savings deposits are protected when not in excess of $100 for each individual depositor.

FANNIE RICE AS BRIDE; SHE WILL QUIT STAGE

Vaudeville and Comedy Artist Becomes Wife of P. W. Ryder, of Boston.

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 3.—P. W. Ryder, of Boston, a traveling man, and Fannie Rice, for many years well known on the vaudeville and comedy stage, came here from Denver and were married. Mr. Ryder announced his wife would retire from the stage.

Killed by Car.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 3.—Dr. W. H. Bryan, of Rossville, who for twenty years has been one of the best-known physicians in the southern part of this city, was instantly killed by being struck by a street car late this evening. Dr. Bryan stepped from a southbound car on the Chickamauga line at East Lake. Walking around the rear end of the car from which he had alighted, he stepped immediately in front of the northbound car. His head was crushed and he was otherwise badly mangled. Dr. Bryan was 58 years old.

Peyser Critically Ill.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Marcus Peyser is critically ill at his home on College street. He sustained a stroke of paralysis last night and family and friends are much concerned. Little hope of his recovery is entertained.

RAILROAD SEEKS TO ISSUE BONDS

Tallulah Falls Railway Wants to Issue $1,454,000

Commission Hears Application for Pardon for Fred Hawkins—May Deny Clemency to Bailey—Capitol Gossip.

The Tallulah Falls Railway Company, which went into the hands of a receiver about a year ago, filed a petition with the railroad commission yesterday asking permission to issue $1,454,022.53 in first mortgage bonds for the purpose of cancelling its present indebtedness and making certain improvements in the property.

Among the debts to be paid by this bond issue are $874,000 of first mortgage bonds now outstanding, besides claims for equipment, material and contract work. This action will amount to reorganization and start the railway upon a new basis. It has never been a paying property.

The commission set the application for a hearing at its meeting on Thursday, March 11.

Fred Hawkins' Case Heard.

The prison commission heard yesterday argument upon the petition for executive clemency in the case of Fred Hawkins, of Gainesville, convicted of the murder of Henry Cagle and sentenced to life imprisonment. Cagle was called from his home at night and shot down in the dark, and Hawkins was convicted of the crime practically upon circumstantial evidence.

Hawkins' father, accompanied by attorneys, appeared before the commission yesterday to plead for pardon for his son, who denies that he had anything to do with the killing. At the same time there appeared C. D. Cagle, brother of the dead man, who declared, among other things, that some of the jurors who had signed the application for clemency had stated to him they did so under duress. The arguments in the case were quite lengthy and the commission reserved its decision.

May Turn Down Bailey's Case.

In spite of the strong appeals for executive clemency which have been made in behalf of Gordon Bailey, of Macon, convicted of running a blind tiger and sentenced to a term on the Bibb county chaingang, it is possible the commission may decline to recommend such action to the governor. Since the case has been under consideration, the commission has received reports from several sources tending to show that Bailey has been an habitual lawbreaker and violator of the prohibition law, and the indications are that it will refuse to recommend pardon. The case will be decided some time this week.

New Bank Chartered.

The Haralson County Bank, to be located at Buchanan, in Haralson county, with $25,000 capital stock, and with G. J. Holcomb, J. A. Dean and others, of Haralson county, as incorporators, was granted a charter by Secretary of State Philip Cook yesterday.

Reappointed a Depository.

The Perry Loan and Savings Bank, of Perry, has been reappointed by the governor a state depository, and Houston county assigned to it. This means that all state funds, taxes and otherwise, collected in Houston county will be deposited in this bank.

Dr. Eliot at Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—(Special.)—Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Eliot, who come to Montgomery for a short stay, next Sunday, will be entertained in the home of Major and Mrs. R. E. Steiner, both Major and R. E. Steiner, Jr., being graduates of Harvard, from the presidency of which Dr. Eliot has retired. There will be no public reception, the doctor speaking at the Grand theater on Monday at noon. Among the prominent men who will come to have part in showing honors to the great educator will be Presidents Thach and Abercrombie, of the Polytechnic and the University, respectively.

Suicide Caused Bankruptcy.

Savannah, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—As a direct result of the death of Chipman, who committed suicide some time ago, the firm of Cornwell & Chipman, in which he was a partner, today filed a petition in bankruptcy. The Electric Construction Company, of Savannah, and C. L. Holmes & Son, of Soperton, Montgomery county, also filed petitions in bankruptcy. The amounts involved in each case are small.

Barettes

The styles of coiffure now most popular demand the use of the Barette. Every woman wants at least one.

HIGH WIND MADE 58 MILES AN HOUR

Walking in Vicinity of Candler Building Yesterday Dangerous.

Wind whizzing about the Candler building at the rate of 58 miles an hour (official) yesterday, though to many it seemed even greater, exceeded the speed limit to such a degree as to make walking on the Peachtree, Houston and North Pryor street sides of the building both devilish and dangerous.

During the afternoon it became currently reported through the building that a lady had her dress badly torn by being caught upon her hatpin, but this was not verified. Anyhow, the wind was blowing a gale that sent pedestrians running at full tilt before it like a tiny craft before a sou'wester. Any number of hats were caught suddenly from the heads of the daring male walkers and sent skimming skyward, only to be chased for a block or two before being recovered.

The large matinee audience which walked up Peachtree street to the Grand to see John Drew made that blustering block between 1 and 2:30 o'clock look more the stage of the Grand during the finale of Richard Carle's "Mary Lamb" than anything else.

Light, filmy skirts were whisked about despite the desperate efforts of their charming wearers to keep their shoe tops covered. Their hats would get awry and in a desperate effort to grab their hats on either side and save their charming cabriolets, their skirts became foot loose and fancy free.

There were a number of young men who congregated in that vicinity to see "the passing show," but they were soon chased away by the friendly cop. This is what happened as they went on to the matinee.

Returning, they approached Whitehall street by going down Ellis street to Ivy, out Ivy to Auburn avenue and back on to Peachtree and Auburn avenue. They then knew which way the wind was blowing.

So strong was the wind in the vicinity of the Candler building that the great storm doors, fixed with possibly the strongest springs in the city, were blown wind open and a wind storm whirred through the lobby until they were forced close from within.

This same wind, while more daring, perhaps, at the Candler building than anywhere else in the city, was nevertheless in evidence all over town.

Out at the corner of Peachtree place and Peachtree street a white messenger boy was blown from his wheel and struck his head on a bordering tree. He was helped up by some nurse maids standing near and carried to the drug store for attention.

The wind continued into the night, and the weather man predicts more wind for today.

LITTLE ZESAL KALBISCH DIES FROM HER BURNS

Little Zesal Kalbisch, the year-and-a-half old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kalbisch, died Tuesday afternoon at the Grady hospital as the result of burns received by falling into hot water at the home of its parents, 78 Gilmer street.

At first it was not known exactly what was the matter with the child, as the parents could speak little or no English and could not make themselves understood to Dr. E. M. McDonald, the hospital physician who went out with the ambulance to get the child. When she reached the hospital, however, it was seen that her left side from head to foot was blistered. Although it was a burn, the exact way the affair happened is still a mystery. The parents managed to make it known that the child had come to its death accidentally.

The father came to the hospital in the ambulance which brought the child, and both parents came to the hospital yesterday morning to see the child's body.

The body was placed in charge of Harry G. Poole, in whose parlors the funeral occurred. The interment was in Hollywood.

NOTHING FOR NUNNALLY.

Plaintiff Loses Suit For Damages in Supreme Court.

The suit of Mrs. Eliza Nunnally against J. Regenstein for $5,000 damages for personal injuries, which has occupied this week's session of Judge Pendleton's court, was terminated on yesterday by a verdict of the jury in favor of the defendant.

Mrs. Nunnally was a tenant of the defendant in the suit and claimed to have received a broken leg, spinal concussion and other injuries as a result of falling plaster from the ceiling of one of the rooms occupied by her on Morrison avenue.

The defendant denied any negligence resulting in the injuries complained of by the plaintiff, and the jury sustained his contention, finding in favor of the defendant and putting the costs of suit on the plaintiff.

Mrs. Nunnally was represented by Colonel J. F. Golightly, and the defendant, Mr. Regenstein, by Hugh M. Dorsey, of the firm of Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman.

STUFFED BIRDS CAUSE TROUBLE

Woman Threatens to Report Owner for Cruelty to Animals.

A. H. Martin, in charge of the soda water fountain in Holt's drug store, at the corner of Marietta and Broad streets, is confronted with the proposition either to remove from his fountain the dozen stuffed birds, reptiles and butterflies, or be reported to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

He does not know his accuser, but is nevertheless worried.

To begin with, he is a great hunter, and is fond of taxidermy. When he has been successful with his gun and net, he has been careful to preserve the skins, and as a result has a collection that would ornament almost any museum.

With lifelike looks, he has on his long fountain a stuffed water rale and a water coot, both killed on the coast, and, to give them more realism, has a small stuffed water moccasin crawling between the two birds.

Next to them, and mounted on a pedestal, strongly resembling an American eagle, he has an American rabbit hawk, which measures from wing tip to wing tip five feet, and stands two and a half feet tall. Beyond that there stares a blue darter; then come a woodcock and two quail. An American bittern and a giant hoot-owl complete his collection of birds.

Neatly mounted on pins are over 100 vari-colored butterflies which he has chased and caught in the fields of Georgia during his vacations. But his prize is a stuffed wildcat, caught and killed on a 'possum hunt.

Thursday he was busy engaged in drawing soft drinks when a lady, who declined to give her name, stepped up to the counter, and, to his polite request: "What will you have?" answered with a sharp look: "I'll have you remove these poor dear little birds and beautiful butterflies from view, or I will have you reported to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals."

"I'm not hurting them," was his answer.

But she was gone. And now he is worried.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAY BE GIVEN CUSTODY

Tentative Proposition Presented at Meeting of Auditorium Conventions Committee.

The auditorium conventions committee of the general council, E. E. Pomeroy, chairman, convened yesterday afternoon in the mayor's office, Alderman Roberts and Councilmen Amorous and Chambers being present.

The suggested custody of the auditorium-Armory by the chamber of commerce was taken up, and a tentative proposition was presented in which were embodied the essential features of a possible agreement between the chamber of commerce and the auditorium conventions committee.

The paper provided that the chamber was to undertake the care, custody and control of the building, subject to the employees, supervision and general direction of the council committee, the chamber to be given quarters on the lower floor and to occupy such space as may be agreed upon. It provided that the chamber should have charge of the building subject to such regulations as the committee might impose, the city to pay the operating expenses, including heat, light, janitor and elevator service, insurance, repairs, etc.

The city, by the agreement, was to pay the janitor an amount to be agreed upon, and the chamber to add to that compensation in accordance with the use it makes of the services of the janitor. The chamber was required to do its best to make the property produce an income, and shall at all times do so in accordance with the rules laid down by the committee.

Opposition to the agreement quickly developed, both Alderman Roberts and Councilman Chambers declaring they were not inclined to take the management away from the committee in any way. Both expressed a preference for a custodian, who was to discharge the functions indicated under the immediate supervision of the committee. Councilman Amorous was inclined to favor the tentative agreement, but made no determined stand for it.

A willingness to give the chamber such quarters as it may need in the building free of charge was manifested by the committee. It was agreed by the members of the committee that the militia should be furnished heat and lights by the city free of cost.

The use of the auditorium was granted the Auditorium-Armory company on May 4, 5 and 6 for a concert, the funds derived to be used in purchasing a large pipe organ for the auditorium. A number of applications for the use of the armory on proposed dates were presented, but all were turned down for the present.

A minimum price for the use of the auditorium for charity was suggested, but the committee could not agree as to the figures.

The committee adjourned without formulating a report to be presented to the general council at its next regular meeting, but determined to take up the matter again before the next meeting.

STARTLING FACTS MAY BE DISCLOSED

When New Police Commission Meets Next Tuesday Night.

On next Tuesday night the new police commission, made up mostly of men marshaled around the old Brotherton faction of the police board, will meet at the police station for the purpose of organizing for the year. Out of the meeting is apt to grow startling disclosures, according to those who are awake to the political situation as it at present stands.

Many of those at the police station and a great many persons outside expect a general shake-up in the heads of the department, and possibly a change from civil service to the old custom of appointment without examination.

It is said that Sergeant of Detectives Roberts was put in at the head of the detectives in spite of the fact that he made but 50 as an average in the examination for the place. It is also stated that one of the roundsmen recently appointed stood no examination at all when there were many others who had qualified for the place.

In case the majority in power decide that civil service should not remain in force in the department, it is probable that the advocates of the change will go before the legislature and ask for the change by due process of law.

While those whose necks seemed destined to come under the axe of the Mason faction are not definitely known to the police generally, there is a feeling of extreme uneasiness among some of the members of the force. On the other hand, there are others who have their eyes and ears open for anything that they may get in the shuffle.

The general impression is that a wholesale mix-up will not be welcomed at this time, in view of the efficiency of the force and the absence of dissension among the men.

In an interview given out concerning the proposed shake-up in the officials of the police department, when the Mason wing of the police board comes into power, Captain James W. English is quoted as follows: "Mere personal favoritism and personal politics, it appears, is behind all of this agitation, and which, it seems, will result in a shake-up in the police department."

He is further quoted as saying that all of the uneasiness is based on a personal desire to reinstate former Sergeant of Detectives Newport Lanford, in the place now held by Sergeant S. J. Roberts. Captain English traces the trouble back to the time when Lanford resigned and Roberts was set up in his stead. He also praises the civil service system and says there was no politics in the board until the deposition of Lanford.

Chief Jennings said when questioned that every act of the board as regards appointments and removals had been done according to the law so far as he knew. He said that Captain English was wrong in the published statement that he recommended Roberts for the place of sergeant of detectives, that he wanted Detective Bullard, and so told the commissioners.

WILL TRANSMIT MESSAGES QUICKER BY NEW ROUTE

Quicker Speed in Transmitting Messages From New York to Europe Obtained.

By a change in the route of one of its cables, which change is to be made in the near future, the Commercial Cable Company announces that the speed in transmitting a message from New York to Europe will be increased not less than 35 per cent. The present route of the cable from Ireland to Canso, Canada, will be intercepted at Flemish Cap, the new route carrying the cable to St. Johns, New Foundland, whence there is a direct line to New York.

This change, it is stated, necessitates the purchase and laying of 1,700 miles of new cable, while the 900 miles lying between Canada and Flemish Cap, which is more than 300 miles from New Foundland, will be rendered worthless. However, an attempt will be made to recover the useless cable. The effort to raise this is a gigantic undertaking, something never before attempted.

New Foundland, it is stated, has been looked upon for many years as a suitable landing place for the American end of trans-Atlantic cables, but the Anglo-American Cable Company has, until recently, had the exclusive landing rights in the island.

The promoters of the movement to change the present route claim that the efficiency of the service will be almost doubled by the change. It is claimed that the service will not only be much more rapid, but more satisfactory in every way.

Col. Tucker Is Retired.

Washington, March 3.—Secretary Wright today approved the findings of the retiring board in the case of Colonel William F. Tucker, of the pay department of the army, and son-in-law of Mrs. John A. Logan. This places Colonel Tucker on the retired list for life on three-quarters pay.

Sale of Val. Laces Today

Been quite a while since we've had a Lace Sale of this particular kind, and we've just as glad to announce it as you'll be to hear of it.

We needn't say a word about the timeliness of Val. Laces now. March with its peeping blossoms suggests the soon-to-be-here summer, and that naturally suggests Clothes--the kind of Clothes that need Lace.

There are plenty--a generous plenty--of these Vals. Not a yard of them will be sold before half-past eight. Our experience tells us that it's a good idea to invite you to come early. However, we think the quantity which we have justifies us in saying that you will find what you'll want pretty much all forenoon--maybe afternoon. Of course, we can't promise.

These Laces are fresh, new and clean--have never been shown at all. They are Ruby and Round Thread in the best Val. patterns, and are in the real and the white shades.

There are plenty of match sets--insertions and edges. Some of the narrow insertions match some of the wide edges, and vice versa.

Sold only by the dozen yards. Here are the prices:

219 dozens Ruby and Round Thread Vals, from 1-2 to an inch wide. Edges and Insertions. Many match sets. Regularly 8 1-2c and 10c the single yard.

59c Dozen

508 dozens Ruby and Round Thread Vals, from 3-4 to 1 1-2 inches wide. These are standard and new patterns. Regularly 10c and 15c the single yard. Match sets.

85c Dozen

450 dozens Ruby and Round Thread Vals, from 1 to 2 inches wide. Match sets and the kind we sell ordinarily at 15c and 20c the single yard.

GEORGIA TROOPS CARRY 'POSSUMS

Local Soldiery and Drum Corps Leave for the Inauguration.

Two "Billy 'Possums," guarded by two companies of the National Guard of Georgia, the Governor's Horse Guard and the Atlanta Firemen's Fife and Drum Corps, left Atlanta Wednesday morning at 10:20 o'clock for Washington, D. C., to participate in the inaugural parade which is scheduled to move this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. So far as known, these will be the only 'possums in the parade, and perhaps the only 'possums ever carried north for such an event. The 'possums were immediately chaperoned by Lewis Gregg, the cartoonist of The Constitution, a member of the Horse Guard party, who originated the "Billy 'Possum" fad in his cartoons. The train on which this happy party went was composed of seven cars, drawn by a powerful engine, which is guaranteed to land them in the national capital this morning at 7 o'clock. The train is to run special all the way, and will return Saturday afternoon.

At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning there was a final parade of the organizations named.

They marched up Broad street to the Candler building, countermarched down Peachtree street to Whitehall and down Alabama to Pryor and to their waiting train.

Johnny Peel, the drum major of the drum corps, headed the procession. Behind him came the forty-five firemen; next came Company K, Fifth regiment, National Guard of Georgia, under command of Captain Claud A. Smith, Lieutenants Stokes and Thomas. Behind them Company M, in command of Captain T. A. Kemp, Lieutenants Rather and Moore.

At the depot they were greeted by the Governor's Horse Guard, who are not traveling as a company, but as an organization. Lieutenants Slicer and Seamans were in charge of this party. Each organization had its own commissary and kitchen on board. First there came the commissary car of the drum corps, then a special Pullman for the drum corps. Next was the commissary car for the two companies of infantry, and two Pullman cars filled with the 112 soldier boys; the commissary car for the Horse Guard, their Pullman, with their party of fifty-one on board.

In Washington they will join the cadets of the Georgia Military academy and the Donald Fraser school, and will have the second position in the Taft inaugural parade.

The train was in charge of Assistant General Passenger Agent J. C. Puller, of the Seaboard Air Line.

The organizations made a splendid showing when passing in review before their departure.

ATHENS AND SARASOTA CLUBS HAVE RESIGNED

Birmingham, Ala., March 3.—(Special.)—Secretary Baugh, of the Southern Golf Association, received today the resignations of the Cloverhurst Country Club of Athens, Ga., and the Honorable Company of Golfers of Sarasota, Fla. Knoxville and Pensacola have acknowledged receipt of statement of their election to membership.

CONSIDER NEAR BEER.

Waycross Mayor Calls Meeting of City Council.

Waycross, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Another chapter in the near beer situation was written today when Ben Jones, who claimed to be a clerk in the near beer saloon of his father, J. B. Jones, which opened yesterday, was hauled up before Mayor Knight and fined $100 for doing business without a license. Jones took an appeal and was required to furnish bond in the sum of $500.

J. B. Jones has paid the state license and claims exemption from city license on account of being a confederate veteran. Mayor Knight has called a special session of the city council for tonight to consider the question of whether or not the city will license near beer saloons.

Negro Hanged.

Wilmington, N. C., March 3.—William Ward, a negro half-breed, was hanged at Clinton, N. C., privately today for a criminal assault upon Mrs. Mollie McLeod, a white woman, near that place. He made no confession. A party of curious spectators, who had climbed a tree to witness the execution inside the jail inclosure, were precipitated to the ground by the breaking of a limb and several of them were slightly injured.

Mad Dog Killed.

Americus, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—A dog evidently mad invaded the car department of the Seaboard shops this afternoon, attacking several employees before being killed. No one was injured.

SOCIETY

Informal Luncheon.

Miss Jennie Mobley entertained informally at luncheon yesterday at her home on Juniper street in compliment to Mrs. Taylor-Smith and Miss Elizabeth Taylor-Smith, of Binghamton, N. Y., who are at the Piedmont on their way home from Cuba and Nassau.

Lowry-Hix.

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Bessie Lowry, of Cedartown, and Mr. William E. Hix, of Atlanta, were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. B. P. Alles, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Miss Lowry is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lowry. Mr. Hix holds the responsible position of general bookkeeper for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad. On the 1st of March Mr. and Mrs. Hix left for an extended tour through the east. On their return they will be at home to their friends at No. 9 Angier avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hix and Miss Hix, of Atlanta, were among those present to witness the ceremony.

Miss Wimberly at Tech.

At the regular midweek entertainment in vogue at the Georgia Tech at present, Miss Clara Wimberly, of Macon, yesterday afternoon entertained with several of her famous dialect readings. Miss Wimberley's work along this line, which has brought her almost a national reputation, was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Rummage Sales.

St. Mary's Guild, of St. Philip's, the cathedral, will hold a rummage sale all day Monday, March 8, at 191 Marietta street. It is requested that contributers send donations to the store on Saturday between 10 and 12 o'clock, or phone Ivy 3061, when they will be sent for.

The ladies of the Universalist church will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, March 5 and 6, at 310 Fraser street. Any one wishing to make donations will please communicate with Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Cottingham or Mrs. Lombard.

Beth Israel Bazar.

The Beth Israel congregation, located on Washington and Clarke streets, will have a bazar some time in May for the purpose of raising sufficient funds with which to meet the last installment due on its magnificent house of worship. The following gentlemen have been elected as the committee which will supervise all the necessary arrangements required for said bazar:

Dr. Louis C. Roughlin, chairman; Mr. Leon Eplan, vice chairman; Mr. Nathan F. Wolfe, secretary, and Mr. Joseph Loewus, treasurer; on the publicity committee, Messrs. Jacob J. Saul and M. Fordon were appointed.

The chairmen of the various booths are: Mrs. Wildauer, country store; Mrs. Louis C. Roughlin, art booth; Mrs. Joseph Loewus, housekeepers' booth; Miss Eva Cohen, candy, flowers and cigar booth; Mrs. H. Wolfe, dining room; Mrs. Filgner, ice cream and cake booth, and Miss Doris Silverman, millinery booth.

A general meeting, at which many interesting addresses will be made, will be held Sunday, March 7, 1909, at 3 o'clock in the auditorium of the synagogue. All are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

To Miss Elizabeth Davis.

In honor of Miss Elizabeth Davis, whose marriage to Mr. Jake Dittler takes place this month, Miss Minnie Simmons will entertain at bridge this evening. Her guests will include: Miss Gladys Flanton, Miss Hertz, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Miss Florence Fox, Miss Laura Rosenberger, Miss Reba Franklin, Miss Edna Benjamin, Miss Florence Strauss, Miss Isabel Cronheim, Miss Edith Stahl, Miss Viola Kreisle, Miss Lillie Elsas, Miss Tillie Liebermuth, Miss Della Moses, Miss Ethel Zacharias, Miss Ida Picard, Miss Pauline Elsas, Miss Rae Cohen, Miss Carrie Rosenberger, Miss Juliette Heller, Miss Clara May Steinheimer, Miss Nettie Asher, Mrs. C. To Miss Grace Troutman.

Mrs. W. C. Coles will entertain at cards Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Grace Troutman, of Athens, who is her guest. The party will include Miss Margaret McDonald, Miss Margaret Ashford, Miss Clio Mable, Miss Cliff Mable, Mrs. Walter Sullivan, Mrs. Graham Perdue, Miss Annie Mary Maupin, Mrs. J. W. Ball, Mrs. James Austin, Mrs. Felder of Valdosta, Miss Jackson, Miss McGregor, Miss Ganns, Miss White, Mrs. Fred Hunt, Miss Elise Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Hines, Mrs. James English Vaughn.

Mrs. Brown's Lectures.

Mrs. Grace Brown is lecturing at the Universalist church every day this week, the lectures at 10 o'clock. The public is invited.

Mrs. Sam Evins, Chairman.

Mrs. Sam Evins will be chairman of the Japanese tea room today, assisted by Mrs. Robert Alston, Mrs. Walter Stearns, Misses Atkins, Miss Sara Badham and Mrs. Edward Brown. The menu will be chicken terrapin, tomato salad, cold turkey.

Sunday School Entertainment.

The children of Wallace Presbyterian Sunday school will give a very interesting entertainment at the church, corner Walker and Stonewall streets, Friday evening, March 5, at 7:30 o'clock. Admission will be only 10 cents, and the proceeds will go toward the liquidation of the church debt. The following program will be rendered:

Motion recitation, "We Little Boys."
Exercise recitation, by little girls.
Concert recitation, "Up in the Garret."
Dialogue, "Choice of Trades," by twelve little boys.
Song, "Little Mothers."
Concert recitation, "In the Heart of a Seed."
Song, "The Rainy Day."
Recitation, "Bob White."
Song, "Baby."
Concert recitation, "The Little Housekeepers."
Dialogues, "The Dead Bird," "The Doll's Hospital," "The Deaf Woman and the Tramp."
Concert recitation, "When I Am Big."
Recitations by Dave Smith, Lizzie Mae Barron, Annie Spinks, Walter Akridge, Nora Ellison, Jessie Todd, Nettie Lee Manning, Ruth Ewing, Gus Manning and Marie Spinks.

The entire program will be in charge of the children, and a very pleasant evening is promised to all who attend.

To Mrs. Hutchinson.

Miss Barbara Hunter was hostess yesterday at an enjoyable heart-dice party in compliment to Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, a recent bride.

The house had an attractive decoration of foliage plants and pink and white carnations, the score cards were hand-painted girls in pink and white, and all the color details were pink and white.

Miss Kathleen Douglas and Miss Elise Brown won the prizes, a lace jabot and a lace handkerchief, and Mrs. Hutchinson was given a stocking shower.

Miss Hunter wore an empire gown of white messaline satin and lace, and Mrs. Hutchinson was gowned in black lace and wore a black hat with white plumes. Mrs. R. C. Henderson, assisting in entertaining, wore old rose messaline, and Miss Susie Hunter and Miss Nellie Walsh served punch.

Jerusha Dow.

"Jerusha Dow" will be at Trinity Sunday school room Friday night, March 5, at 8 o'clock.

She will show her relatives as follows: Grandmother, Mrs. C. T. Printup; Mother, Mrs. J. H. Bradfield; Father, Mr. R. H. McDougal; Aunt Paulina, Miss Kate Fenton; Uncle John, Mr. E. W. Brogdon; John Dow, W. H. Preston; Grandchild, Carter Printup; Jerusha's Namesake, Janie Reiley; Sal, Miss Vivian Jolly; Jane, Miss Mildred Bradfield; Twins, Dorothy Brogdon, Catharine Featherston; Giggling Ann, Annie Lois Brooks; Uncle Jake, J. E. Wilhelm; Johnny Dill, Palmer Wood; Rosy Mary, Miss Ruth DeTreville; Parson Briggs, A. F. Gardner; Samuel Dow (cross-eyed), Mr. C. D. Knight; Peggy Lee, Mrs. C. H. Kelley; Nancy Gray (Quakeress), Mrs. E. W. Brogdon; Bride and Groom, Miss Louise Printup, Mr. Calhoun McDougal; Jerusha Dow, Miss Louise Printup; School Teacher, Mr. Paul Key; Mary Jane, Mrs. C. D. Knight; John's Third Cousin's Wife, Mrs. McDougal; Timothy Flint, Mr. A. F. Gardner; Mary Ann Saphier, Mrs. R. T. Connally; Deacon Brown, Mr. C. H. Kelley; Deacon Brown's Wife, Mrs. W. F. Wooden; Village Belle, Miss Bessie Brogdon; Baby Nell, Cornelia Ledbetter.

A special feature of the occasion will be the singing of the song, "Uncle Joe" (84 years old), by Professor B. C. Davis.

Proceeds to go toward St. John's new church fund.

Honors to Mrs. Heard.

Mrs. Eugene Heard, of "Rose Hill," Elberton, Ga., has been appointed on the permanent committee of story-telling in the play ground of the American Play Ground Association. Mrs. Heard was present at the last meeting of the association, and her suggestions struck a happy keynote, and the Uncle Remus stories will be among the stories selected by the association.

Reception to Miss Yaw.

For the average singer high C is a very laudable ambition or the E above, and some singers who are deemed phenomenal touch G above. The fact, then, that Ellen Beach Yaw, who is to be heard in Atlanta tonight, sings not only double high C, but trills on D and E above double high C, and touches the G above that, leaving three treble notes on the piano that she does not equal, is hard to believe.

So natural does it come to her, however, and so well has this upper register been trained as well as the entire wonderful range of her voice, that these marvelous tones are uttered by her without apparent effort, and there is music in them.

It is scarcely fair to Miss Yaw, who is an artist of the first rank, to dwell too much, however, on this natural gift alone, when culture has made her voice so beautifully worth while from the artistic standpoint, and her recital tonight will be that of the prima donna, versed in many languages and many parts, rather than the "freak" singer.

Miss Yaw appears under the auspices of the Atlanta Musical Association in their hall at 122 Peachtree street, and after the recital a reception will be tendered Miss Yaw by the association. Receiving with the officers will be Miss Ida Allison, of Oklahoma, who will introduce the guest of honor, and the occasion will thus present another feature of interest, since Miss Allison, who does the advance publicity work for Miss Yaw, is herself a personality as interesting as her profession is unique.

To Mrs. King.

The bridge party given yesterday by Mrs. R. A. Redding in compliment to her guest, Mrs. William King, of Lexington, Ga., was a delightful affair, bright with a happy hospitality.

The house was inviting with jonquils and narcissus, used with ferns, and delicious refreshments were served in the dining room, where the table was artistic in yellow and white.

The centerpiece, a lace cover, was of jonquils and narcissus, the silver candlesticks had shades in the colors of the flowers, and the candies were yellow and white.

The prizes of hand-painted china were won by Mrs. Alfred Truitt and Mrs. Wallis, and Mrs. King was presented a hand-painted plate.

Mrs. Redding was a charming hostess, wearing blue messaline, and Mrs. King wore champagne-colored messaline and fillet applique.

A surprise feature of the occasion was the singing of Master William Howard King, the 8-year-old son of the guest of honor. His three selections, "I Ain't as Foolish as I Look to Be," "I Got to Go to See the Minstrel Show" and "Paddle Your Own Canoe," were presented in a manner which betrayed the possession of real gift, voice, manner and expression lending themselves to genuine interpretation. The young "coon artist" is the son of William Howard King, well known in public life, both in Georgia and in Washington, D. C., and, as "Billy" King, enjoying a wide reputation as an entertainer. The little boy is a grandson of Mrs. William King, of Atlanta.

Bridge Luncheon

The bridge luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Joseph D. Rhodes was a pretty affair of twenty-four guests, and the first of a series.

Mrs. Rhodes' attractive home in Ansley Park was tastefully decorated with growing plants and with vases of pink roses.

In the dining room the center table was inviting with pink candy baskets filled with candy, and the central decoration was a basket of pink roses. At the small tables there were spun candy baskets filled with candied strawberries, and individual candy baskets of dainties.

Miss Agnes Ladson and Mrs. Lee Lewman won the prizes, a mahogany hand mirror and a pair of silver buckles.

Cornett-Suttle.

William F. Cornett, of Atlanta, and Miss Mattie Suttle, of Centreville, Ala., were married here Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Pink Cherry, 200 North Jackson street.

This announcement is the culmination of a pretty romance that started some time ago. The marriage was to have taken place shortly at the home of the bride's parents in Centreville. The bride on Saturday morning of last week told her parents that she was going to Birmingham to buy her trousseau, but instead she came on to Atlanta and decided to marry Mr. Cornett while visiting Mrs. Cherry. The news came as a big surprise to the parents of Miss Suttle and the friends of Mr. Cornett.

It had been decided to have the wedding a quiet affair, but Mrs. Cherry surprised both the bride and groom-to-be by having a few of their closest friends on hand for the ceremony and the wedding supper, which was enjoyed afterwards.

Mr. Cornett is well known in Atlanta, being connected with the Pink Cherry Market. Miss Suttle is one of the most prominent young ladies of Centreville, and is a charming, attractive and musically-inclined young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Cornett will make their home in Atlanta.

Meetings.

The Social Union of the First Baptist church will meet at the church this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

There will be a business meeting of the Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Woman's Club rooms. The executive board will meet at 3:30 p. m.

The Graded Union of Sunday School Teachers and Child Study Class will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church. Mrs. F. P. Gaffney will give the lesson for next Sunday. The mothers and teachers of the city are invited.

A Splendidly Serviceable and Stylish Petticoat—the "Klosfit"

To our own way of thinking, there's only one thing about the "Klosfit" that could be improved, and that's the way the manufacturers spell its name. You'll admit that there isn't much to improve.

A close-fitting petticoat is essential with the clothes of the mode. You must be slim and strait if you'd be within hailing distance of the correct figure. This particular petticoat—the Klosfit—is thoroly practical and thoroly adapted to general wear.

It comes in black Heatherbloom and in Silk. The Heatherbloom is very light, fine and durable, an ideal stuff for this purpose. These petticoats are made with double ruffle neatly strait and corded. Also with embroidered top-ruffle. The silk models have tailored and plaited ruffles of very attractive finish.

The distinctive feature of the Klosfit is a gusset of French stockinet inserted on each hip, an elastic band fitted to the waist and flap snap clasps. There isn't an atom of unnecessary bulk. When the petticoat is slipt on, it fits perfectly to the figure—smooth as a glove and without one unsightly wrinkle. It's a true fit.

It's a good-looking petticoat—because it's made of good stuff and is carefully put together. It stands the closest scrutiny and has no unpleasant secrets of faulty material or construction.

Prices: $2, $2.50, $3.50, $5.

NEARLY RESIGNED

But Held Position on Grape-Nuts.

An Oklahoma woman was saved from loss of health and position by change to right food. She says:

The Spring of 1904 found me almost a nervous wreck from the use of improper food. I could not sleep nor eat anything but what it seemed that my stomach was on fire.

"I had the best medical advice I could get, but medicine did not reach my trouble. I was growing worse all the time until I was about to resign my position, a thing I could not afford to do.

"A friend brought me a pkg. of that wonderful food, Grape-Nuts, and asked if I had ever tried it. I told her no. I had no faith in it, but to please her I promised to use the package before I decided what it would do for me.

"I ate nothing but Grape-Nuts and cream three times a day and that awful burning in my stomach disappeared. I was able to continue at my work and gained 26 lbs. in three months. So I owe my health and position to Grape-Nuts.

INSTANT RELIEF FROM CATARRH.

Send for a Trial Sample of This Great Remedy, and Convince Yourself of Its Merit.

When we say that Eclipse Catarrh Cure gives instant relief from that disagreeable, offensive disease from which so many suffer, we are ready to prove this assertion to your entire satisfaction. No matter how long you have been afflicted, no matter how badly stopped up your head may be, the sample which we will send you will give immediate relief, clear up the clogged air passages, throw off the offensive accumulations, and soothe and heal the delicate, irritated membrane.

Eclipse Catarrh Cure is a vegetable preparation of wonderful curative powers. It promptly reaches the remotest air passages, where the disease is located, and effects a permanent cure in even the worst cases.

R. A. Wear, Osona, Fla., Writes:

"Inclosed find $1.00 for another package of Total Eclipse Catarrh Cure. Have used the package you sent me three weeks ago four times daily, and found it of greater benefit than any other treatment I have used, and I have taken many.

"A catarrhal discharge from the right ear, which had continued uninterrupted for eight months in spite of medical treatment, stopped after a few days' use of Total Eclipse Catarrh Cure, and has not returned.

"The hearing is also much improved. "I feel so much benefited that I shall continue the treatment as long as may be necessary."

Send for Week's Treatment.

We are anxious for every sufferer to try this great remedy, and will send for twenty-five cents in stamps a liberal trial treatment and a pipe to all who will send us their name and address. We have hundreds of letters from grateful patients whom we have cured, and will send you also our booklet containing these testimonials and full information about the disease. Do not delay, but write today. Address Eclipse Medicine and Manufacturing Co., Jacksonville, Fla.

NEILSON WON'T SING.

Was to Be in Concerts for Jefferson Monument.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 3.—J. W. Morrisey, who has been managing Joseph Jefferson's operatic concerts in the south for the benefit of the monument which is to be erected to the great comedian in New York city, is in Jacksonville today en route to New York from Palm Beach with five of his artists, having left Miss Alice Neilsen, his star, behind in Palm Beach.

Morrisey reports that Neilsen deliberately broke her contract with him at Palm Beach and he has begun suit for damages against the noted singer. Morrisey has replaced Neilsen and Camille D'Arville and will have his company appear at the white house on March 18 in a musical.

GOV. PATTERSON GETS A KNOCK

State Officers Elected by Assembly.

Joint Session Needed Governor's Approval, It Was Argued — Anti-Administration Took Reins in Own Hands.

Nashville, Tenn., March 3.—Acting on the grounds that a constitutional quorum of the entire general assembly being present, it is not necessary for a constitutional quorum of each house to be present for the transaction in joint legislative action, the joint convention of the Tennessee general assembly proceeded with business this afternoon. The convention first met last Saturday and took a recess from day to day until today, when it elected a state comptroller, state treasurer, state board of election commissioners and the democratic and republican boards of state primary election commissioners.

Reau A. Folk was reelected treasurer and insurance commissioner, and Frank Dibrell succeeds himself as comptroller. This movement on the part of those members of the legislature who supported the three new election laws and helped pass them over the veto of the governor, came as a great surprise to the opposition forces. The anti-administration men declare they have known for some days that this action could be taken, but have held off, hoping the absent members would return.

Members Tried to Bolt.

The roll call of the respective houses in joint convention showed twenty senators and ninety-four representatives present, a total of 114. There are 132 members of the joint convention, making 88, two-thirds of the total membership, a quorum, according to the contentions made. The roll call showing 114 members present, there were 26 members present over a constitutional majority, according to the ruling.

As soon as the intention of the majority became apparent, the storm broke. Sergeants-at-arms had been placed at the gates to prevent the retirement of members without permission from the president, and the administration forces protested most vigorously against the proceedings, declaring in an emphatic manner that the convention was not legal, and that the convention was acting without constitutional or other authority.

The anti-administration leaders argued that the signature of the governor was unnecessary to the resolution calling the convention, and a Kentucky case was cited, there being none covering the point in Tennessee. In support of the contention that a constitutional quorum of the whole general assembly, and not necessarily of each branch of the legislature, was alone necessary in a joint legislative convention.

Declare It to Be Ruse.

Administration supporters tonight are charging that today's proceedings were merely a ruse to bring the runaway senators back into the state, when their attendance on a joint convention could be forced and the elections gone through with again. Word from the absent senators at Hopkinsville, Ky., says they will not return, and it seems probable that the courts will be called on to adjust the trouble.

DEMANDS OF SERVIA HAVE BEEN WITHDRAWN

This Action Indicates Peaceful Settlement of the Balkan Trouble.

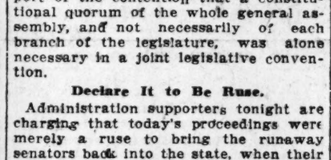

London, March 3.—It was learned conclusively in London today that Servia, in accordance with the advice of the powers, has withdrawn her demand for territorial compensation at the hands of Austria-Hungary. The semi-official news published in Vienna to the contrary is, therefore, erroneous. The question of the autonomy of Bosnia was not raised in the representations made by the powers at Belgrade. It is believed that this decision on the part of Servia foreshadows an early and peaceful settlement of her difficulty with Austria-Hungary.

Mrs. Taft Names Secretary.

Washington, March 3.—Miss Alice Blech, an attache of the bureau of the American republics, has been selected by Mrs. Taft as her social secretary. She succeeds Miss Isabelle Hagedor, the first woman to hold the position of social secretary to the wife of a president.

BROWN TAIL MOTH WORRIES MR. WORSHAM

State Entomologist in Washington Consulting Government Experts.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(Special.)—E. L. Worsham, the state entomologist of Georgia, is in Washington to consult the department of agriculture with reference to the brown tail moth, which has been shipped to Georgia in cuttings. This pest has wrought much havoc in New England, causing considerable loss to nurserymen and orchardists.

If the pest is introduced into Georgia, Mr. Worsham wished to know if part of the money appropriated by congress for fighting the pest would be available for use in Georgia. He was assured by Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology, that the department could render aid in checking the ravages of the pest.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

Alexander Was Charged With Violating Prohibition Law.

Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—A Montgomery jury has failed to convict for violation of prohibition laws. H. K. Alexander went to trial yesterday and in ten minutes the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal. Feeling its weakness, the state today nolprossed a case against Thomas Harrison, one of the two men indicted for violating the prohibition laws. Another case against Harrison was postponed. This indictment and one against H. K. Alexander, acquitted yesterday, are tests of the sentiment with regard to the enforcement of the laws and are not encouraging to the state.

SECRETARY OF WAR

Arrived in Nashville Yesterday, Will Remain Until Tonight.

Nashville, Tenn., March 3.—Judge Jacob McGavock Dickinson, who will be secretary of war in Mr. Taft's cabinet, accompanied by Mrs. Dickinson and Judge George R. Peck, of Chicago, arrived here this morning and proceeded at once to Belle Meade, 7 miles west of this city, where they will remain until Thursday night, when they will go to Chicago.

This afternoon a large company has been invited to meet Judge and Mrs. Dickinson and Judge Peck at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Ewing. This evening they will be entertained at the Watauga Club and on Thursday afternoon a luncheon will be tendered the distinguished party at Overton Hall, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overton, near Nashville.

Blizzard in Berlin.

Berlin, March 3.—Berlin is in the grip of a blizzard. Snow fell heavily throughout the night and this morning traffic is almost at a standstill. Fifty people have been seriously hurt by falling on the streets and a large number sustained slight injuries from the same cause. It has been necessary to put a great many city cabs on runners. More than 15,000 of the unemployed of Berlin were today engaged to clear the roadways.

"A STITCH

in time saves nine." Do not forget this old adage and apply it at once to the protection of your home by providing today a bottle of GOWAN'S PNEUMONIA PREPARATION. It stands for security against sudden attacks of croup, pneumonia, colds, coughs, and all ailments where inflammation and congestion are the cause. External, quickly absorbed.

Where Can You Find Such Elegantly Great Variety of Corset Models as in Rich's Exclusive Corset Department?

New Spring styles in Binner, Mme. Irene, Lily of France, La Grecque, La Premier, Warner's Rust Proof, W. B., C. B. a la Spirite, R. & G., Thomson's Glove-Fitting, P. N., Merito and Sahlin Corsets are here.

While variety of stock itself is a great factor in securing the correct Corset for every type of figure—full satisfaction is assured in having our expert Corsetiere, Miss Rosalind Selig, fit you with the model best adapted to your special type. All matters of prime importance will thus undoubtedly be carefully adjusted—and comfort, as well as style and beauty, will be yours. Our Miss Rosalind fairly revels in women who are—well, inclined to stoutness—and when they see their figures transfigured in one of our Corsets it is no wonder that they appreciate the advantages of this most up-to-date Corset Department. The new Spring models all await you.

BELL PHONE 5168.

$2,500 FOR the prettiest and best vacant lot for the price that can be found on the north side of the city. Elegant neighborhood, cherted street, tile sidewalks and unusual depth. Just see it and you'll buy it.

$2,100 FOR pretty 5-room cottage on nice street, in first-class neighborhood and with splendid car service. Can rent it at once at $20 per month, and it can be bought on easy terms. It's either a nice little home or a fine investment. Nearly 12 per cent.

$7,250 FOR pretty West Peachtree home. You can't find them often at this price on this fine street, but I have it, and it's a bargain, too. A beautiful 8-room house and servant's room. Both gas and electric lights and furnace heat. See me and I'll tell you all about it. Reasonable terms.

$5,750 FOR a lovely Inman Park home, in beautiful location, on car line. New 2-story, 8-room house and elegant lot. $6,900 spot cash has been refused for it several times, but I have it now at the special price named, and it's a rare bargain. Easy terms.

$1,600 FOR pretty Ansley Park lot. They are selling right along out there now, and you can make some money on this one. The fine location will surprise you. Easy terms.

$5,750 FOR pretty north side home. Now, if you mean business and want a nice two-story, 8-room house at a big bargain, it will certainly pay you to see me about this one. It's on a splendid street, and in beautiful neighborhood, and it is a reduction of $500 from price recently asked for it.

I HAVE an elegant list of north side homes for from $5,000 to $7,500, and a fine list of higher-priced ones. Also plenty of fine lots, and it will pay you to see me before buying.

PEACHTREE ROAD FARM.

WE have just had listed with us a 75-acre farm with a frontage of ½ mile on Peachtree road and Southern railway. About 35 or 40 acres in cultivation; 20 or 25 acres in timber and pasture, and a fine orchard; in the best of condition and containing about 1,000 trees, including peaches, apples, pears, pecans, figs and grapes. There is a good four-room dwelling, a good barn and other outbuildings. We can sell you this farm for less than you can buy anything between Atlanta and Norcross. If you want a farm on the Peachtree road, take a look at this one and you will surely buy.

DR. BERNARD WOLFF'S BEAUTIFUL, ARTISTIC HOME, NO. 9 PEACHTREE PLACE, OFFERED BY US EXCLUSIVELY FOR SALE.

THIS lovely home was planned by Bleckley & Tyler, the well-known architects, and built of selected material, under the critical eye of Dr. and Mrs. Wolff. It's a gem of a home, containing the promptings of cultivated taste and artistic environment. The reception hall, living-room and dining-room all open together beautifully. Staircase makes a picturesque ascent to the upper floor and bed chambers. There are large closets, dressing rooms, linen room and trunk room. Fine bath, with modern sanitary plumbing. Furnace heated. Lot 60x170 to alley. Servants' room, barns, etc. You can buy this home at a reasonable figure. Can be shown readily. For price and terms, consult us. We will answer any inquiry by phone or in person about this home.

766 PIEDMONT AVENUE, 8 ROOMS; MODERN, CHOICE HOME IN EVERY WAY, LOT 50x190; FURNACE-HEATED. ONLY $6,750.

THIS pretty home is with our firm exclusively for sale. Owner built it for his permanent home, but has gone to the country and you can buy it at the low price quoted. Loan $3,100 at 5½ per cent, balance can be arranged on very easy terms. Shown only by a representative from our office. Come and see us about it.

COLLEGE PARK—FIVE-ROOM COTTAGE ON LOT 50x200. ONLY $200 CASH, $10 MONTH. PRICE $1,150.

GO right to Dr. P. R. Chambliss' Drug Store and he will show you the place. It's his home. It will be a pleasure for him to show it. He wants to sell and reduces the price from $1,500 to $1,150 for quick sale. It's worth your while to investigate this. Who is going to offer a home on any such terms, except a man who wants to sell quick? Better than rent. You know it.

PEACHTREE STREET HOME.
RIGHT in the swell residence section of Peachtree street, this side of Tenth street, surrounded by handsome homes of Atlanta's representative families, I can sell you the prettiest little home in the city. It has parlor, library, dining room, hall and kitchen on first floor, with four beautifully arranged bed rooms, connecting with two baths, on the second floor. Dressing rooms and plenty closet space. The interior of this house is beautifully finished in quartered oak, hardwood floors, and is furnace-heated. As a whole, it is, without question, the most complete home you will be shown anywhere. The lot has a beautiful elevation, being perfectly level and running back 200 feet to an alley, with larg stable and servants' house in the rear. Now, listen to the price on this: I can sell you this elegant Peachtree home for $14,500—$5,500 cash, balance to suit you. Think of it. A home in the swellest part of Peachtree street, surrounded by twenty-five and thirty-five thousand-dollar homes, at the price they ask you for built-to-sell houses on side streets. Come to see me and let me put you in the swim.

WASHINGTON STREET.
IN TEN MINUTES of the city hall I have a corner lot fronting 68 feet on Washington street. This has on it an elegant home of 12 rooms, finished in hardwoods, polished floors, and furnace-heated; was built for a home and cost something like $22,000, but it now belongs to an estate and must be sold. As a close-in home you cannot find a more desirable location, and it will grow in value every day you own it. As a close-in apartment site, property on the north side would cost you double this amount at the present time, and it is reasonable to believe that values on the south side will follow along with the north side. So get wise and own a piece of close-in property. Can sell on very easy terms or would take property in exchange. See me.

WHITEHALL STREET.
IN THE LINE of enhancements on Whitehall street I have a large slate-roof house, on a lot running back to Forsyth street, giving you two street fronts. If you are in the market to speculate, this is your chance, as there is no possible reason for this piece of property not growing in value every day you own it. Price $10,500.

CARNEGIE WAY.
FRONTING 50 feet on Carnegie way I offer you a piece of property at $12,500, that is just as sure to make you money in the next twelve months as the twelve months are coming. Can't you see a profit in a piece of property that is offered to you cheaper than you can buy for on the side streets in this section?

Homes Built Anywhere.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON WAS ACTIVE IN EARLY AFTERNOON

Old Crop Months Sold 9 to 11 Points Higher—Lost Part of It Later.

New York, March 3.—The cotton market was less activet oday and lost part of a midday advance in the late trading, closing steady, 1 to 7 points net higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2@4 points, in response to better cables than expected, continued dry weather in the southwest and further talk of yesterday's improved spot situation. After selling about 3 to 6 points higher, prices reacted slightly, but the market met with continued support from prominent bull brokers, and following private advices from the south, claiming a further improvement in spot demand and firmer interior holders became quite active and firm during the early afternoon, particularly in the old crop months, which sold 9 to 11 points net higher. The new crop followed the advance to the extent of about 5 to 6 points, but in spite of the forecast for continued dry weather in Texas, sold back to within a point or two of the lowest for the day in the late trading. A number of private wires were received reporting an increased demand for spot cotton from exporters for filling out March engagements, and the southern markets officially reported early were unchanged to ⅛c higher. Drought conditions in Texas are believed by some to be having an influence on interior holders, as well as upon sentiment in the leading contract markets. Sales of 5,400 bales were reported in the local spot market, and the decreasing local stock is one of the sustaining factors in the near months.

Receipts at the ports today 23,518 bales, against 10,672 last week, and 14,931 last year. For the week 115,000 bales, against 121,789 last week, and 116,236 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 8,768, against 252 last year, and at Houston 3,505 bales, against 5,799 last year.

Spot closed steady; middling uplands 9.85; middling gulf 10.10; sales 5,400 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 3.—Cotton: Spots were firm. Low ordinary 5 9-16, nominal; ordinary 6 3-8, nominal; good ordinary 7 13-16; low middling 8 7-8; middling 9 1-2; good middling 9 15-16; middling fair 10 15-16; fair 11 1-16, nominal. Receipts 8,768; stock 272,590. Sales on the spot 475 bales; to arrive 850.

Futures opened steady with the near positions 1 to 2 up and the distant 1 off. Cables were favorable and the weather in the west showed no improvement. Notwithstanding this, the market had a weak undertone in the morning session and prices fell off to a net decline of 2 to 4 points. Around noon the market steadied up again and in the afternoon prices rose until they were 3 to 7 points over yesterday's closing level. The close was steady, with prices showing a net advace of 1 to 4 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 3.—The jobbing houses are doing a steady trade in wash goods, silks, dress goods and ready-to-wear goods. Domestics are moderately stady. Underwear and hosiery have been quiet this week. Silks for fall are in fair demand, and there is no let up in the demand for spring merchandise. Cotton yarns continue weak and irregular.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, March 3.—Closing: Cotton, spot in fair demand; prices 6 points higher; American middling fair 5.67; good middling 5.31; middling 5.11; low middling 4.91; good ordinary 4.51; ordinary 4.16. The sales of the day were 10,000 bales, of whch 1,000 were for speculation and export and included 9,600 American. Receipts 13,000 bales, including 10,400 American. Futures opened today steady and closed barely steady.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 3.—Liverpool did not maintain the full advance of the day, as arbitrage brokers have been buying here and selling there because of the reported large sales from our stock. It was the report of these sales which brought about the advance of the afternoon, which leads the trade to expect much better advices from Liverpool tomorrow. With the local trade looking for a further improvement, the only sellers were the outside holders, who supplied the demand at each point advance. This advance was based on the theory that after the March tenders were taken up the market would improve under a demand from Liverpool to reverse arbitrage sales, and the feeling tonight was that this factor would be present for some time to come.

Dividend Declared.

New York, March 3.—The American Snuff Company today declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred and 1 per cent on the common stock. The last previous quarterly dividend on the common stock was 4 per cent.

New York, March 3.—Sugar, raw easy; fair refining 3.20; centrifugal, 96-test 3.70; molasses sugar 2.95. Refined sugar steady; crushed 5.35; powdered 4.75; granulated 4.65.

Molasses quiet; New Orleans 28@42.

We are now ready with a select and complete line of spring woolens. Make your selections now. Busk & Stack, 1304-6 Fourth National Bldg.

VERY NARROW MARKET WAS THAT OF STOCKS

Nearly All the Business Was Done by the Professional Operators.

New York, March 3.—It was a day of small things in the stock market, and the meager business came almost entirely from the class of professional operators who make a livelihood by the daily fluctuations in prices. A part of the speculative element engaged in watching the differences of quotations ruling in this market and in London, in order to profit by arbitrage operations, played an important part in the narrow market. The traders who had bought stock yesterday on a rising scale up to the close of the day were somewhat disconcerted over a number of developments which confronted them when they started business today. They unloaded their light holdings, as a consequence, with some precipitancy. While this selling was light, the demand was even lighter, and the result was rather violent breaks in prices. The professionalism of the market was demonstrated by the suddenness with which extreme dullness followed the completion of this selling of the traders. Finding no influential following for the hasty selling, they got over their fright and repurchased the stocks sold earlier. The selling from foreign sources was prompted by the sudden turn for the worse in the news of the relations between Austria and Servia. The foreign markets plainly showed the disturbance of sentiment caused by this news, and the reflection of this feeling was one of the factors in the opening weakness here. The clearing of the outlook in the Balkans during the day was reported too late to effect a recovery in the foreign markets, but there was buying of stocks here late in the day, on the assumption that orders will come from abroad tomorrow to buy back the stocks sold for that account today. The defeat, in congress, of the ship subsidy measure caused a slump in Pacific Mail, as that stock had been lifted aggressively on the strength of assertions that the bill had a good prospect of passing. Disappointment was felt at the refusal of the New York public service commission to modify the terms of their permission for the issuance of Erie bonds. Danger was feared of the failure of the financial plan intended to rehabilitate the Erie. The detailed attention given in that ruling to questions of cost of railroads, capitalization, and manner of issue, informing a judgment of the reasonableness of freight charges and the specific opinion that earnings of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific in recent years have been excessive, threw open a wide field for conjecture of the effects of future applications of this method. Reading was subjected to some special pressure, because of statements in circulation that it was the intention of the anthracite companies to shut down all the mines on April 1, pending the making of a new agreement over wages with the miners. The accompanying argument that opportunity would thus be given to market surplus stocks of coal and reduce interest charges involved in carrying these stocks did not appeal apparently to holders of the coal stocks. A sudden drop in the price of copper warrants in London received more attention than did the renewed claims of further large sales of refined copper in New York. A good effect was produced in the latter part of the day by the announcement of the placing of the year's orders for steel rails by the New York Central system. The recovery proved unstable, however, and prices slipped back and made a weak closing.

The low price realized at yesterday's sale of New York City corporate stock, compared with the sale in November, had a slightly chilling effect on the bond market. The tone was irregular, and there was less activity than of late. Total sales, par value, $4,320,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW HIGH RECORDS WERE MADE BY GRAIN

Wheat at the Close Showed Net Gains of One-Eighth to Half Cent.

Chicago, March 3.—New high records for the season were made in wheat, corn and oats on the board of trade today. Wheat for May delivery sold at $1.19 1-2, while at the same time the July option touched $1.07. Coarse grain followed wheat in its upward course, May corn selling at 67 3-4 and May oats at 56 1-2. Prices reacted from the top on realizing sales, but at the close wheat showed net gains for the day of 1-8 to 1-2@5-8c for the two leading months. Corn, oats and provisions closed firm.

Sentiment in the wheat pit was extremely bullish all day and trade was of large volume and of a general character. Leading bulls were active supporters of the market at various times throughout the day, and this inspired a large amount of covering by shorts. Commission houses, in general, were deluged with buying orders from outsiders as a result of the crop damage reports which have been a feature of news during the past few days. Many additional advices were received here today, telling of the poor condition of the fall-sown crops in many sections of the country, particularly in Texas. Another factor that contributed to the strength was the alleged small reserves of wheat still in the farmers' hands. During the day May sold between $1.18 1-4 and $1.19 1-2 and July between $1.05 5-8 and $1.07. The September delivery touched the dollar mark. The distant deliveries eased off considerably during the final hour on profit-taking. The close was somewhat irregular, September showing a net loss of 1-4 and the nearby deliveries a gain of 1-8 to 1-2@5-8c, the latter for the May option.

All deliveries of corn touched new high marks as a result of an active general demand based primarily on the bulge in wheat. The market, however, was also bullishly affected by reports by receiving houses that country dealers were selling little corn. Owing to this slow movement, the price of the cash grain advanced 3-4c. The top point for the May delivery was reached at 67 3-4. July sold up to 67 and September to 66 1-2. Prices reacted a trifle because of realizing sales, but the market closed firm at net gains for the day of 1-4@3-8 to 3-8@1-2c. Final quotations on May were 67 3-8@1-2 and July 66 5-8.

New high records for all deliveries of oats were also scored, the top price for May being 56 1-2 and July 51. The market closed firm with prices up 1-8@1-4 to 3-8c compared with yesterday's close, final quotations on May being at 56 1-8 and on July 50 1-2@5-8.

Provisions were a close second to grain in the strength manifested throughout the day and at the close prices showed a net gain of 7 1-2 to 12 1-2c compared with yesterday's close. Shorts were aggressive buyers early in the day, owing to the smallness of the movement of live hogs at the leading western packing centers, total arrivals today being estimated at 74,500 head, compared with 117,500 the corresponding day a year ago. Strength of grain also had a bullish effect.

BANKRUPT SALE

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—By virtue of an order of the Honorable P. H. Adams, referee in bankruptcy for the district court of the United States for the northern district of Georgia, passed on the first day of March, 1909, the undersigned as trustee in bankruptcy of Southern Brass Works, bankrupt, will receive sealed bids for the sale of the assets of said bankrupt as hereinbelow listed; said bids to be opened and passed upon on March 10, 1909, at 10 o'clock a. m. in the office of P. H. Adams, Esq., referee, Prudential building, Atlanta, Ga.

Said sale is to be for cash, and bids will be received for the bankrupt assets as a whole and then separately for the different lots or parcels listed as follows:

1. All that tract or parcel of land in land lot 148 of the 17th district of Fulton county, Georgia, and being a portion of the S. H. Phelan property as platted and sold by W. M. Scott plat recorded in plat book 2, pages 76 and 77, Fulton county records, commencing at southeast corner of Phelan and Hattie streets and extending thence in southeasterly direction on east side of Phelan street 200 feet and thence at right angles to Phelan street in a northeasterly direction 183½ feet to western line of right-of-way of Southern Railway Company's spur track; thence following the right-of-way of said railway company in northwesterly direction along a curve of radius of 280.9 feet for a certain distance to a tangential curve of radius 456.1 feet, which brings it back to starting point at corner of Phelan and Hattie streets, being 87-100 of one city acre, on which lot is situated Southern Brass Works' factory; this is all and the same property conveyed to said Southern Brass Works by S. H. Phelan by deed recorded in book 195, folio 113, of the deed records of Fulton county, Georgia.

2. Also the machinery and supplies located upon described property as listed in the inventory of the cost price of $5,602.87.

3. Also a certain lot of patterns used in the business of said bankrupt as shown in the inventory of the cost price of $4,404.

4. Also a certain lot of special tools used by the bankrupt in the conduct of its business as set out in the inventory of the cost price of $1,977.

5. Also a certain lot of brass goods, finished and partly unfinished, as set out in the inventory of the value of $1,671.91.

6. Also the notes and accounts owing to said bankrupt as set out in said inventory of the face value of $2,474 (less such amounts as may have been collected by the receiver and trustee).

Full information can be obtained and the inventory seen upon application.

T. D. MEADOR,
Trustee in Bankruptcy of Southern Brass Works.

THE WEATHER TODAY: WINDY AND COLDER

Wind Attained Velocity of Fifty-Eight Miles Per Hour Yesterday.

Forecast for today: Fair, brisk westerly winds, and colder. A storm of considerable force has developed over western Pennsylvania and Ohio, causing cloudy weather over the upper Ohio valley, and on the north Atlantic coast, except in North Carolina, fine clear weather now prevails in the south. It is fair over the entire Rocky mountain region owing to the presence of an excessive area of high barometer. A new storm is entering the land on the north Pacific, which is causing rain from Los Angeles north to Portland. The temperature is lower in the northwest, many station reporting below freezing.

THE WIND CAME NEAR BLOWING HIM AWAY.

Real March weather was ushered in on Atlanta yesterday, the wind blowing in a westerly direction at an average velocity of forty miles per hour, and at one time traveled as fast as fifty-eight miles. The local forecast for today indicates the same conditions with a lower temperature.

"These brisk winds we are having now," said the Gopher, "certainly are a treat compared to that weather we had last week. I had a hard time trying to navigate on the streets yesterday afternoon, and I had to step spry to keep on the sidewalk. Honestly, I had to stop up by the Candler building for a little while to get some sand out of my eye. The temperature promises to go much lower than 55 degrees today."

No Chance for Hepburn.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 3.—The recount of ballots in Union county in the contest between Congressman William P. Hepburn, of Clarinda, and W. D. Jameson, of Shenandoah, for congressman in the eighth district, was completed today and showed a gain of two votes for Hepburn. This completes the count in the three counties involved—Page, Appanoise and Union—with no change in the result so far as the election is concerned. Jameson had 380 majority.
